P R O C E E D I N G S

IN OPEN COURT

(Commencing at 9:05 a.m.)

THE COURT: We are here this morning in the matter of the National Hockey League Players' Concussion Injury Litigation. This is MDL 14-2551. Let's begin by having notice of appearances, please. We'll start with the Plaintiffs.

4 THE COURT: Very good. Any other Plaintiffs in the 5 audience?

6 (None indicated.)

7 THE COURT: And the defense.

8 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Morning, Your Honor. John 9 Beisner on behalf of Defendant, NHL.

22 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Morning, Your Honor.
23 Chris Schmidt on behalf of the U.S. Hockey Clubs.

24 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Your Honor, in addition we 25 have David Zimmerman and Julie Grand listening by telephone

1 for the NHL. We have Shep Goldfein from the Skadden Arps firm 2 by telephone, and we have Joe Baumgartner and Adam Lupion also 3 listening by phone from the Proskauer Rose firm.

4 THE COURT: Very good.

5 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Thank you.

6 THE COURT: I thought we would start with a 7 housekeeping matter. I believe the next status conference is 8 scheduled for August 6th. I have a criminal trial that can't 9 be moved for that day, so I have two questions for you. One 10 is can we do it the -- that Friday, which is the 7th, in the 11 morning, and do you want to have another informal status 12 conference in August? The next formal status conference after 13 that would be September 3rd.

14 Any thoughts about that? Mr. Zimmerman.

15 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Your Honor, yes, I would 16 like to have an informal. August 7th, if I -- I don't have 17 my -- my iPad around. It ran out of juice last night and I
18 forgot to charge it, and so I don't have my calendar in front 19 of me. August 7th, I may or may not have a conflict. I will 20 need to check, if that's okay.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Sure.

22 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: And I could get back to 23 defense and to the Court before the middle -- after we're done 24 today.

25 THE COURT: Perhaps you all look at your calendars

1 when you get a chance and then we can -- if it doesn't work
2 for you, you could propose a couple of other dates in August, 3 perhaps.

4 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Just so you know, August 7th 5 works fine for us, Your Honor, so we'll just wait to hear from 6 Plaintiffs on that.

7 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

8 And then as I said, the conference after that is -- 9 the next formal conference is September 3rd. So, the question 10 is whether we want to have something in like the week of the 11 18th, perhaps, of August by way of an informal conference.
12 And if so, to be honest with you, I'm in Duluth that week. I 13 have two trials in Duluth that week. You could come to Duluth 14 if you wanted, but -- I have time in Duluth.

15 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: It's not Minot. It's 16 beautiful (laughter).

17 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I've spent a lot of time in 18 Duluth.

19 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: We'll come to Duluth, Your 20 Honor.

21 THE COURT: I understand.

22 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I will comment no further.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Early the following week, it 24 looks like I could do it on the 24th or the afternoon of the 25 25th, so those might be the best dates for it.

1 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Those are the informals, 2 Your Honor, or --

3 THE COURT: Informals, yeah, because again that week
4 of the 17th I'm in Duluth the whole week.

5 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Could you give me those two 6 dates again?

7 THE COURT: Monday, August 24 and Tuesday,
8 August 25.

9 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Can we get back to you on 10 those?

11 THE COURT: You can. Mr. Beisner has got his iPad, 12 so he's going to tell me if he's --

13 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I have a charger, by the way.

14 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: That's the second offer I've 15 had from both you guys for a charger. We're getting along too 16 well.

17 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Either of those dates I think 18 would work fine. Your Honor, I'm sorry, you said the morning 19 of those two or --

20 THE COURT: Um, the 24th I'm available all day. The 21 25th I have a motion in the morning, so -- it's actually just 22 a motion. We could start at 11 or we could start at 1:30 23 or --

24 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Either of those would be fine, so 25 whatever is acceptable to Plaintiffs would be fine with us.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Then we'll hear back from
2 Plaintiffs on that.

3 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And are we planning anything for 4 middle of this month? Have we set a date --

5 THE COURT: We hadn't.

6 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And perhaps it isn't necessary, 7 but I just wanted to ask to make sure I hadn't missed 8 something here.

9 THE COURT: Any thoughts about that?

10 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I think when you see the 11 issues in the agenda, I think you're going to want to have us 12 come back. I think there's a lot of open issues that probably 13 would be helpful. We could probably get them resolved if we 14 have a target date for an informal and then if we can't 15 resolve --

16 THE COURT: That's fine. I'm going to e-mail my 17 calendar clerk who's not here. I didn't bring my July 18 calendar with --

19 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: But do you have a charger
20 (laughter)?

21 THE COURT: I do, yeah. All right. So, remind me 22 to get back to that July date later on. All right.

23 Let's move ahead on the agenda, then.

24 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Are you prepared to begin, 25 Your Honor?

1 THE COURT: Yes, please.

2 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Thank you. Charles
3 Zimmerman for the Plaintiffs.

4 Just by way of sort of introduction, we're about six 5 months now into the discovery program. I think we really 6 started discovery somewhere around January of this year. And 7 we're almost a year into the assignment of the MDL to this 8 Court, so it's kind of a midterm exam grading time to do -- 9 grade our papers, perhaps, a little bit. So, I'm going to 10 hope to do that today and put some context into everything 11 we're presenting so that the -- everybody in the courtroom and 12 especially the Court gets kind of an overview of how far we're 13 getting and are we, you know, are we on track. And I think 14 the conclusion will be we're going to need a lot more time to 15 do discovery.

16 I'm just -- I'm putting that out there because I 17 think you'll see where we are with things and what's really 18 going on in the real world. And that we're just going to have 19 to -- we're just going to have to enlarge -- enlarge the 20 timeframes. But the Court -- you'll make that conclusion, of 21 course. But I just want you to know that the context of 22 things will be so that the Court has really an overview of how 23 hard we've been trying and how, really, the cooperation we've 24 had -- I've gotten two offers for chargers today, so I just 25 can't even believe it.

1 THE COURT: And we had depositions without phone
2 calls to the Court.

3 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: We had one phone call.

4 THE COURT: We did have one phone call, yes.

5 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: And then we can have a 6 discussion about that, and if the Court would like formal 7 motion practice with regard to it by -- at the end of the 8 conference, we can kind of wrap up and determine how the Court 9 wants to --

10 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this. Have you met 11 and conferred about extending the schedule?

12 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: We've talked about it at the 13 last informal status conference, but we have not. So it's not 14 a formal thing I'm asking. I'm just putting it into context 15 in sort of where we are in light of where we need to get.

16 THE COURT: I think it would be useful to put that 17 on the agenda for the next informal status conference, and so 18 I'd like you to meet and confer about whether extensions are 19 necessary.

20 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Sure. And that's perfectly 21 appropriate and we will certainly -- we will certainly do 22 that.

23 So, the first issue then, Your Honor, is the 24 document -- the Defendant's document production. And with 25 all -- with all due respect to everybody's professionalism,

1 there's a lot of open items that are really the items in the 2 rest of the agenda that all relate to discovery issues, many 3 of them are document production issues. But what I think 4 is -- is really very obvious is if you look at the end of May 5 through the end of June production, 1.9 million pages of 6 documents have been produced in that 30-day period, and that's 7 about 90-some percent of the entire production.

8 I'm not accusing anybody of anything. I'm just 9 being factual that although we tried to prevent back loading, 10 I think we have had to be appreciative of the fact that that's 11 the way it's occurred. And so I just need to point that out 12 and we're working diligently, but there's just so much 13 capacity we have and it is sort of forcing us into where we 14 are today, which is sort of letting the Court know that a lot 15 has happened in the last 30 days with regard to documents.
16 We're not going to be able to catch up as quickly as we had 17 hoped had this been rolled out from the February date. But 18 I'm not -- I just want the Court to be aware of it.

19 And then there's three other things, or four other 20 things the Court will want to know in a summary fashion, and 21 then we'll talk about them individually, is that that doesn't 22 include the Board of Governors' documents, which are still in 23 play. It doesn't include the text messages issue, which is 24 still in play. It doesn't include the U.S. Clubs' documents, 25 which are still in play, the Canadian Club documents that are

1 still in play, and the private medical information questions
2 and withhold of documents that is still in play.

3 So, even though we've got about a million-nine of 4 new documents in the last 30 days, we've still got these other 5 things that have got to get -- got to get filled in. I'm 6 highly confident, Your Honor, we will get them, we'll get to 7 them, we will be able to resolve the issues that are contained 8 within those issues. But it does go to the question of 9 timing.

10 Having said that, I think Brian Gudmundson of my 11 office or -- I'm sorry, Scott -- Brian Gudmundson is going to 12 tell you a little bit more about the document production, and 13 defense will comment, and then we'll see --

14 THE COURT: Let me ask you this, Mr. Zimmerman. I 15 think we talked last time at the informal about a protocol for 16 handling privilege log disputes. Have you met and conferred 17 about that yet?

18 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Yes, that's what he's going 19 to talk about.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

21 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: We have not, and I
22 unfortunately was unable to attend the last informal status
23 conference --

24 THE COURT: You know, that podium goes up. Right in 25 the front, there's a --

1 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: You mean the arrow that goes 2 up, right? Got it. We have not met and conferred. We -- 3 it's on the radar. We received a new privilege log last night
4 just after midnight with an additional approximately 2,000
5 entries. We're up to about 6,200 entries in the privilege log
6 right now. The issue of the private medical information 7 privilege in that log and the content of that is still in the 8 open. I understand that the volume of that is substantially 9 more than what we've seen already on the -- on the -- what we 10 would call the regular privilege log.

11 So, our intention is to meet and confer in the very 12 near future, but we're trying to get our arms around, first of 13 all, whether their log in the first place is sufficient. We 14 are analyzing that. But we intend to meet and confer in a 15 process for challenging that. But it's a little difficult, 16 not having seen the privilege log with respect to private 17 medical information, where they all look different or the 18 same.

19 THE COURT: So you haven't gotten one of those yet, 20 or not?

21 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: We have not.

22 THE COURT: You have not. But you've been told that 23 the number of documents on it exceeds the documents on the 24 privilege logs combined, is that what you're saying?

25 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: Well, we've been told that

1 there's about 15,000 entries approximately in the private 2 medical information. And I'm unclear at this time about 3 whether that's just the NHL's hold back of documents or 4 whether that includes the U.S. Clubs. But the issue of 5 private medical information is being addressed by others that 6 I'm sure can speak to that a little bit better.

7 I don't have a lot to add to what Mr. Zimmerman said
8 about the privilege -- or I'm sorry, the document production 9 to date. I think he did adequately point out that from 10 February to May, we received about 230 pages of -- 230,000
11 pages of documents; and in the last month, we've received 12 1.9 million, while at the same time we've got all these other 13 issues sort of pulling down the production and our ability to 14 sort of analyze it in the context of depositions and pending 15 motion practice.

16 So, again, I share Mr. Zimmerman's view that this is 17 going to get worked out, it's just taking longer than we 18 anticipated. I'm sure that it's taking longer than everyone
19 anticipated, and there's -- I'm certain there's good faith 20 reasons for all of that, but it's just a matter of time.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Would it be possible or -- do you 22 think it would be wise to try to meet and confer on these 23 privilege log challenges before the next informal, or is that 24 too quick?

25 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: No, I don't think it's too

1 quick, and we can -- we can talk about that with them. I 2 think we can do that. And it's within the next couple of 3 weeks, I think we can do that for sure.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: I don't know if we're going 6 to get a private medical information log by then, but we can 7 certainly visit with defense counsel and get that straightened 8 away.

9 THE COURT: Thank you.

10 Mr. Connolly.

11 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Your Honor, just quickly on 12 that topic since you focused in on the privilege logs, we 13 think it would be great if we could focus in on the legal 14 privilege log. The medical privilege log is a different 15 issue, a totally different breed of cat. And what we think we 16 have -- we're ready to talk about this, we've been producing 17 the privilege logs for some time on a rolling basis at the 18 Court's request and Plaintiffs' request, and we haven't 19 engaged on that topic. We think that would be a helpful area 20 because those are the only documents other than the medical 21 ones that we'll discuss later that the parties don't have an 22 agreed-upon access to. So, we think it would be great if we 23 had a process in place by the next informal that we could 24 begin an orderly process of reviewing these with the Court, if 25 necessary.

1 THE COURT: Mr. Connolly, are you in a position to 2 tell me when you expect to produce this privilege log with the 3 medical entries, and are you doing a different privilege log 4 than Mr. Schmidt is on that?

5 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Mr. Martino is the one to 6 speak to on the medical -- the privilege log. He has -- I'll 7 let him speak to that. I'm not conversed with that particular 8 topic.

9 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

10 Good morning.

11 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Morning, Your Honor. Matt
12 Martino, obviously, for defense. For the -- let's see. The 13 problem with having tall guys before you, I'm going to raise 14 it --

15 THE COURT: You can put it back down if you want.

16 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: For the private medical 17 information, that's a separate log from the attorney-client
18 privilege log. We are in process of reviewing those documents 19 now. There won't be 15,000 entries necessarily. There are 20 15,000 documents that are in second review for that, that have 21 been marked by some earlier review as potentially containing 22 private medical information, and that review is ongoing.
23 Hopefully we'll be completed within the next couple weeks, and 24 that log -- we'll start rolling those logs, as well. I guess 25 there will probably be a little more -- it won't be like a

1 slow log roll like it was for the privilege because we're 2 almost completed with that review.

3 THE COURT: But by mid-July, there should be the 4 production of at least one of those logs?

5 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yeah, I think we could do 6 that, yes.

7 THE COURT: Okay. And giving your reviewers
8 guidance about this, I presume you're incorporating some of 9 the thoughts that we discussed at the last informal 10 conference?

11 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yes. Yes. And we will be -- 12 some of that we'll be redacting and things like that, as well.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: I think that was it for that 15 issue.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Yep.

17 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Okay.

18 THE COURT: Very good.

19 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Oh, and one more thing. On 20 the privilege logs, we anticipate hopefully being completed 21 with the entire privilege log process by the middle of July, 22 as well.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: So that we sort of -- to the 25 extent -- you know, we have been rolling them, as Mr. Connolly

1 said, so, you know, we're ready and willing and able to set up 2 that process.

3 THE COURT: All right. Very good.

4 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Thank you.

5 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Martino.

6 All right. Anything else on Defendant's document
7 production?

8 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Master Complaint Plaintiffs' 9 document production is Mike Cashman's issue, and so if 10 Mr. Cashman will advise the Court on the status of that.

11 THE COURT: Thank you.

12 Good morning, Mr. Cashman.

13 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: Morning, Your Honor. As the 14 Court knows, the Plaintiffs, the six Master Amended Complaint 15 Plaintiffs produced documents sometime ago, and then we've 16 been in the process of collecting ESI for all six of these 17 individuals. And it has taken some effort through third-party
18 sources to get access to some of this ESI. We've accomplished 19 that, we've reviewed it now, and we've produced two of the six 20 this week; and within the next couple days, we hope to get the 21 other four produced, and we should be ready to go.

22 THE COURT: Okay. You don't have any privilege 23 logs, Mr. Cashman, do you?

24 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: At this time, we don't have a 25 privilege --

1 THE COURT: But have you withheld for privilege in 2 that review?

3 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: We haven't withheld anything 4 as privileged. We are not -- and I don't think the NHL is 5 doing this -- are not producing documents after the lawsuit 6 was commenced. For example -- and they're not logging those 7 documents, to the extent we have communications which would be 8 privileged.

9 THE COURT: Okay. I think that's usually the rules, 10 so very good. All right. Thank you.

11 Did Defense wish to talk about Plaintiffs'
12 production?

13 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: We have nothing further to 14 add. We were satisfied with that -- that summary, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Connolly.

16 Mr. Zimmerman.

17 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Good. Good. The next item, 18 Your Honor, is the status of the Board of Governors' document 19 production. Scott is going to -- Scott Andreson is going to 20 report on that, but I think a little bit of the history -- and 21 Scott will give it -- is important in the context of this 22 because obviously we find the Governors, Board of Governors' 23 documents to be extremely important, and we don't have any of 24 those yet.

25 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: Morning, Judge.

1 THE COURT: Good morning. It looked like you've 2 reached agreement on search terms.

3 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: We have, and I'm happy to do
4 that. There was actually a fairly straightforward process 5 which I think once -- once we got to the point of the 6 agreement to produce these documents, it was a fairly -- very 7 civil and fairly easy process. The problem that we have that 8 relates to the bigger picture here is the fact that we're in 9 July and we haven't seen any yet. And we asked for documents
10 that should have come from the Board and we asked it 11 January 15th. And the initial response was to say, no, the 12 NHL said no, the Board of Governors are third-parties. And so 13 we -- we didn't agree with that. But we subpoenaed the teams 14 and said, well, the NHL says that the teams should give us 15 this information. And then we subpoenaed the teams and then 16 the teams said, well, we're not going to give you that 17 information, you should talk to the NHL.

18 And we went through this back and forth, and finally 19 I think after we sent quotes from the bylaws saying these are 20 the folks that run the League, the NHL said, we'll produce for 21 the 30, we had a negotiation, and from there it went smooth.
22 But that was May 28th that we finally agreed on search terms.
23 We haven't seen any documents. And we asked for a 24 commitment -- and if you recall I think it was at one of the 25 informals here -- by August 1. The NHL said, look, we can't

1 do that, considering everything else we're doing on the main 2 production. Understand. But we don't have any commitment.
3 We don't know when -- when it's going to start, we don't know 4 when it's going to end, we don't know what the volume is. And 5 the next wave of depositions which Mr. Grygiel is going to 6 talk about includes Governors. Right? And so we need those 7 documents. And if we aren't going to get them for months on 8 end, it's just going to keep up pushing everything back.

9 So, quite frankly, we would be thrilled if out of 10 today we came out with a commitment that we will have 11 documents starting on a date and substantially complete by a 12 date.

13 THE COURT: Well, has there been discussion about 14 prioritizing documents for the depositions that are upcoming?

15 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: There has not been any 16 discussion as to which -- what the priority is and how they're 17 going to roll that out. We're not even sure how they're going 18 to collect it or what the process is. Their status report 19 indicates that they've started collecting, but we don't know 20 how they're doing it and we don't know the process, and so it 21 would be great if we could get some update on that.

22 THE COURT: Thank you.

23 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: Thank you, Judge.

24 THE COURT: Mr. Martino.

25 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Sure, I can speak to that.

1 So, as we mentioned at some of the previous conferences,
2 the -- the issue with the collection here is that there are 30
3 different Clubs, 30 different systems. Some of the Governors'
4 e-mails are not on the Club system even, they're on another
5 company's system -- I'm sorry, another third-party's system.
6 And so we have issues, you know, with dealing with the 7 third-party systems, and it is more of a collection issue than 8 a review issue. The document volume is not going to be 9 anywhere near the volume that we've had for the NHL 10 production, the 200,000, 2 million pages that we've had. But 11 we have begun collecting. We've received documents from about 12 10 of the teams so far, and we're in the process of reviewing 13 those. We hope to start producing documents by the end of 14 next week for some of the Governors.

15 We did say to the Plaintiffs that we couldn't commit
16 to an August 1st date because, as I said, it's sort of a lot 17 of balls in the air with 30 different Clubs and --

18 THE COURT: What --

19 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: -- it's really the third-party 20 system that does the --

21 THE COURT: What can you commit to for the 10 teams 22 from which you've collected documents?

23 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: For the 10 that we've -- oh, 24 sure, yeah, I think we could -- we could commit to --

25 THE COURT: Can you commit to July 15th for that?

1 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Could we do the third week of 2 July for those? I'm just concerned about, as we review these,
3 we're including, you know, the third-party --

4 THE COURT: Okay. By the 21st, how about that?

5 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yeah, I think that's --

6 THE COURT: Ten teams by the 21st. But I'd also 7 like you to take a look at the upcoming Governor 8 depositions --

9 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: No, I understand.

10 THE COURT: -- and prioritize those and collect 11 those and keep the Plaintiffs informed about that progress and 12 then me at the informal. Okay?

13 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Sure. Sure. That makes 14 sense.

15 THE COURT: Now, how many teams again, U.S. teams, 16 are there?

17 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Well, we're collecting both 18 for the U.S. and Canadian Clubs, so there are 30 total Clubs.

19 THE COURT: Thirty total. And what is your best 20 estimate for, given some of the collection issues, these -- 21 your success in collecting the documents for the remaining 20, 22 not production, but how about just collecting?

23 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: By -- when we would have that 24 collected? Uh, I would hope we would have them all collected 25 by the end of July. But, you know, again, hope is -- hope

1 springs eternal. It's -- there are a lot of conversations 2 ongoing and running search terms and things like that on these 3 systems that we have no control over. So, we are pressing the 4 urgency to the Clubs. And they understand, I think, that we 5 need to start getting this in so we can review it.

6 THE COURT: Have you received any hard copy?

7 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: I think we have received a 8 little hard copy, but we have requested hard copy for all the 9 Clubs, yes. So to the extent they have hard copy, they will 10 be sending that to us, as well.

11 THE COURT: All right. Good. So it looks like just 12 to sum up here, by the 21st you'll have produced from the 10 13 teams that you've already collected from --

14 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yeah, I think it's about 10.
15 It could be nine, but yeah. But from what we've already 16 collected, I think we can --

17 THE COURT: And you're going to prioritize the 18 Governor depositions coming up so that those get produced in 19 time for the depositions?

20 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Sure. Yeah. And we can work
21 that out with the Plaintiffs on sort of scheduling.

22 THE COURT: Great. Okay.

23 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: All right. Thank you.

24 THE COURT: Mr. Beisner?

25 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, if I may emulate my

1 friend Mr. Zimmerman on a context point; I did want to clarify
2 one issue here. I think the statement -- I don't mean to take 3 this literally about not getting any Board of Governor
4 documents yet -- and I'm not sure that's what Counsel meant -- 5 but I want to be clear about what we're talking about here.
6 There has been a huge amount of Board of Governor materials 7 produced, Minutes, you know, books for the meetings and so on, 8 to the extent that they're relevant, have been produced. And 9 to the extent that there is e-mail activity that's been going 10 on between the custodians at the NHL and any members of the 11 Board of Governors that are relevant, those have been 12 produced.

13 So, really what we're talking about here. And I
14 suspect Plaintiffs would characterize that a little 15 differently, but I want to stress Mr. Martino's point that 16 we're talking here about a fairly, we think, fairly limited 17 collection of material. We're looking at e-mails from these 18 individual Governors that haven't been picked up already from 19 the NHL production. So, those may be e-mails with others and 20 things of that sort. I'm not saying there is nothing there, 21 but we're not talking about, you know, the first time anybody 22 is seeing anything about the Board of Governors, the 23 deliberations. This is sort of icing on the cake.

24 THE COURT: Are you dedupping? In other words, no, 25 you're not comparing what you're getting from a particular

1 Governor to the NHL production and --

2 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: No, we would not -- to the 3 extent there's the same exact e-mail that's in the Governor's 4 files, that would still be produced.

5 THE COURT: All right. Thanks.

6 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And I suspect, you know, there
7 will be differences in the characterization, but I just want 8 to make clear this is not the first time that there's been any 9 dipping into the Board of Governors --

10 THE COURT: I remember you saying that before.

11 MR. JOHN BEISNER: We're not debating the 12 entitlement to those, and I understand why counsel want them.
13 I just want to make clear that the volumes and new material 14 we're talking about, I suspect, is limited.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

16 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: And, Judge, that's -- quite 17 frankly, that's what we're trying to learn. That's why we 18 have the status conferences so we get to learn this 19 information. And I do think that Matt and I can figure out, 20 for instance, I mean if it's nine teams or ten teams, it would 21 be helpful for us to know which of them are we talking about, 22 right, because that might relate to them, the issue of the 23 depositions and what's been collected.

24 A couple of points that I want to clarify -- and you
25 hit one of them, Judge -- and that is that the hard copy --

1 that we're not just looking for e-mails. We're looking for 2 hard copy documents that are responsive to our original 3 document requests sent back in July and then related to the 4 search terms that we've provided. The other thing is that 5 Mr. Beisner just referenced this being principally a search of 6 e-mails, and this is going to come up again in the context of 7 NHL documents generally, but we'd also expect that, you know,
8 this would include texts and other sort -- all forms of ESI, 9 whatever they might be. It could be spreadsheets on their 10 computers, not just e-mails. And I just want to clarify that 11 the broader definition of ESI is what you're collecting for 12 the Board of Governors.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Martino, do you agree that's what 14 you're doing?

15 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: We are certainly -- I think 16 we'll need to actually go back to Plaintiffs with that because 17 I think we have a protocol in place about how we're going to 18 search e-mails and search non-e-mail electronic documents from 19 their computers or whatnot. I think that's already in place.
20 And so, you know, if they have any -- we can discuss that 21 again and just to clarify if they have any issue with that.
22 But I think we're doing what we said we were going to do with 23 them, which is basically searching e-mails with search terms 24 and for non-e-mail, we've agreed to manually go through and 25 see if there's anything relevant, not download all of the

1 e-mail on-- as you would -- as we did for the NHL -- NHL
2 custodians. We downloaded all of their relevant electronic 3 documents and ran search terms. We would not be doing that 4 for the Board of Governors, pursuant to agreement with the 5 Plaintiffs that what we would do instead is have them go 6 through their non-e-mail computer files and see where they 7 would have relevant information and sort of search that like 8 you would hard copy: This is relevant, pull that out; this is 9 relevant, pull that out.

10 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: And that is what we understood 11 as it relates to non-e-mail electronic information that might 12 be on their computer systems, the spreadsheet I'm talking 13 about or a Word document or a PowerPoint. But how about texts 14 as it relates to the Board of Governors?

15 THE COURT: Does your ESI protocol address texts?
16 Do you know?

17 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: Our ESI protocol -- I mean, the 18 ESI protocol generally that we have in this case is --

19 THE COURT: For all ESI?

20 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: -- for all ESI, so it isn't 21 limited in any way. And that issue is going to be raised 22 later and discussed in the context of the broader NHL 23 production. And I just want to understand if, you know, if 24 you're going down that road as it relates to the Board of 25 Governors so that we don't end up debating it three months

1 from now like we're debating the fact that we didn't get them
2 to begin with from the NHL custodians.

3 THE COURT: All right. I want you to meet and 4 confer on the Board of Governor texts and report to me at the 5 next informal.

6 MR. SCOTT ANDRESON: Thank you, Judge.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Okay. Status of depositions 9 scheduling. Steve Grygiel is going to talk about that with 10 Your Honor. And we're going to talk about the number that 11 we've asked, who we've asked for, the schedule, and the 12 back-up -- and the back-up documents so that you have some -- 13 we also have some context as to this whole process.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Grygiel.

17 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: Morning, Your Honor. As you
18 know, Steve Grygiel.

19 I'd like to talk about depositions in terms of just 20 a couple of categories. One obviously -- and perhaps most 21 easily -- is the scheduling, what we've asked for, what has 22 been completed, and what remains to be done that hasn't yet
23 been scheduled but has been requested. Then I'd like to talk 24 about the timing of these depositions, particularly with 25 respect to the issues you've heard about already, and that is

1 production of Board of Governors' documents, production of 2 text messages, completion and review of the other document
3 production, and those issues. Because obviously when we pick 4 a deposition, particularly in the first set of depositions, we 5 did it with an eye towards a discovery plan. And as those 6 depositions do not get completed in accordance with our 7 originally-forecasted timetable, that of course pushes our 8 other depositions and the rest of our discovery, including, 9 for example, request for admission, down the road.

10 Altogether, Your Honor, we have requested, in terms 11 of a summary, 21 deponents to be deposed so far. There's been 12 21. Seven of those have actually been completed. We have now 13 tentatively scheduled, some are more tentative than others, 14 nine. Of the remaining deponents, which is five for whom we 15 have asked for dates, we have not yet gotten dates. So, 16 essentially we have 21 requested, seven completed, and nine 17 scheduled, some of them more tentatively, so that means about 18 33 percent of the requested depositions have thus far been 19 taken.

20 One of the important points here, Your Honor, is to, 21 I suppose, put some factual specificity to the way that 22 Mr. Zimmerman was referring to, and I can give you some 23 examples. And I think what's most relevant for the Court's 24 understanding and for our process going forward is for the 25 Court to understand how long it takes from when we seek a

1 deposition to when we actually get a date to when they 2 actually get scheduled. One easy example is, for example, we 3 asked for the deposition of Mr. Anschutz. Thirty-nine days 4 later, we received a date. That date is another two months in 5 the future. Essentially, we have, from the date of the 6 request, four months from the date of the request to the 7 actual date. For Brian Burke, an NHL executive and now a team 8 executive, 28 days elapsed between the date we asked for his 9 deposition and the date we got a date for it. And then, of 10 course, the actual date of the deposition is another three 11 weeks later.

12 In terms of the early depositions -- and there was 13 only one -- that ship sailed with very little cargo. That was 14 Dr. Burke; 53 days elapsed between the date we asked for his 15 deposition and the date we finally got a date for it. A 16 number of other examples: Dr. Audrey, important to the 17 concussion study, 39 days elapsed between the date, Your 18 Honor, we actually said we'd like to depose Dr. Audrey and the 19 date we received a date that we could take his deposition. At 20 that rate, Your Honor, we are never going to complete 21 discovery by December 31st. It just can't be done.

22 There are some other issues that go along with these 23 scheduling issues. And I don't mean to be unfair. In some 24 cases we asked for depositions and we got dates fairly 25 quickly. I asked for Mr. Cigarran. You remember me

1 discussing him at the last informal conference, and I got a 2 date 19 days later. And for some others, they were a little 3 more expeditious. But generally speaking, it takes a long 4 time.

5 Another issue comes up, Your Honor, which is that 6 when we're scheduling these depositions, for example, 7 Mr. Gapski is the trainer of the Blackhawks, obviously has 8 implications for medical issues. Well, that's tentatively 9 scheduled for July 15th, but that most likely is not going to 10 go forward that date for a number of reasons.

11 Leaving aside Plaintiffs' scheduling issues, we have 12 the issue of personal medical information. And that issue, of 13 course, as Your Honor has already heard in the Holmgren 14 deposition and in the McCrossin deposition, that issue has to 15 be resolved I think before we can meaningfully go forward with 16 remaining depositions. As Your Honor knows, one of the NHL's 17 defenses is we gave the warnings that should have been given.
18 And Plaintiffs then, of course, want to say: To whom, when, 19 where, how, in what form, how often, and what was the 20 response? And we get back to the defense, well, that's 21 personal medical information to the extent it involves a 22 particular Plaintiff and you need to get a release and go 23 through a panoply of protocols to make sure that no private or 24 personal medical information is divulged.

25 THE COURT: So despite my guidance, we are not

1 getting any closer to agreeing on these issues, so you need an 2 order from me. Is that what you're --

3 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I believe we will, Your Honor.
4 And yesterday we spoke with Mr. Schmidt. We had a fairly -- I
5 think it was 45-minute call, according to my clock. We spoke 6 for 45 minutes about the issue, about what we're going to do
7 about this because it comes up all the time, as Your Honor 8 knows, in this case. And it would. And we decided after 9 going back and forth with, frankly, an awful lot of lawyer 10 pontificating, and I was one of the culprits, about what's 11 privileged, what's not privileged, when is the privilege 12 waived, to whom is it waived, and to what extent is it waived 13 if there's information in the public domain. I think we 14 decided that perhaps the best way to proceed would be for 15 Mr. Schmidt and I or my colleagues to put together a list of 16 issues and questions that are clearly going to come up in 17 these depositions. And each side, I think, to frame this 18 narrowly, would then put their proposal down for what they 19 think the scope of the privilege is and perhaps cite some 20 authority to say why they think they're correct about that and 21 then ask the Court for an order --

22 THE COURT: I think that's a good idea.

23 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: That's where we came out in 24 that yesterday after 45 minutes of talking past each other.

25 THE COURT: Do you think that's something you could

1 get together by the informal?

2 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I believe we can, Your Honor.
3 In fact, we will.

4 I spoke for you there, Chris, but we will.

5 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: We will need to follow
6 Mr. Grygiel's lead on that and see the questions that they 7 want to pose.

8 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: Right. And a number of them, 9 Your Honor, of course, everyone is well aware, nothing is 10 going to come up as a surprise because we had it come up in 11 the McCrossin deposition. Your Honor may remember one of the 12 issues there was -- and it's worth thinking about so that 13 we're all thinking about it the same way, I think, and don't 14 waste more time. Mr. McCrossin had said in the public domain 15 that he couldn't live with himself if he permitted Keith 16 Primo, a former Philadelphia Flyer, to play again. And 17 Mr. Dearman correctly said, "And why did you say that?"

18 Our view, obviously, is because he knew that there 19 would be longterm neurocognitive impairments and we wanted him
20 to say it, and we couldn't get at that information. We think 21 that's fair game. The Clubs and the Defendants don't, and 22 that's what we're going to sort out.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Grygiel, I would suggest that you do 24 your set of questions first and try to do that within the next 25 week to ten days and get that to Mr. Schmidt and Mr. Beisner

1 or who's ever dealing with this on the NHL. And then we'll 2 give them a week to get back to me, and I think that will be a 3 good way to resolve it.

4 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: Thank you, Your Honor. That 5 makes good sense.

6 And then finally with respect to document
7 production, we do have a date now for -- just for example 8 Mr. Anschutz. It's September 29 in Denver. And he, of 9 course, is an owner of a team and was an alternate Governor.
10 But until we're sure we do have that entire universe that 11 Mr. Beisner kindly said they're not contesting our right to 12 see, until we have that, it doesn't make much sense for us to 13 agree firmly to dates; I want to pencil them all in because we 14 want to move forward. But until we have a full and fair 15 opportunity to review the documents -- because I don't think 16 at this late date anyone can say, well, Judge, Grygiel was the 17 guy here urging early depositions. The only early deposition 18 at all was Dr. Burke's and that was just taken about a month 19 ago.

20 THE COURT: Well, the nine scheduled and the five 21 that you're waiting for dates, or whatever the numbers are, 22 who are the Governors?

23 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I can give that to Your Honor.
24 Of the ones that are scheduled now, the only Governors or 25 alternate Governors, I believe, are Mr. Cigarran. And that's

1 August 28th in New York City is what we hope to do, assuming 2 we have all the documents by then, which Mr. Beisner and I 3 have already talked about by e-mail. And Mr. Anschutz is 4 September 29 in Denver. Other than that, we have team
5 executives, doctors, former player, and, of course, 6 Commissioner Bettman is coming up.

7 THE COURT: Mr. Martino, have you collected
8 documents from Cigarran and Anschutz?

9 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: From --

10 THE COURT REPORTER: You need to come to the mic.

11 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: From Mr. Cigarran, yes.

12 THE COURT: You have.

13 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: I believe we have collected 14 for him.

15 THE COURT: So you expect for him at least you 16 should produce by the 21st of this month?

17 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Okay. Sure. Yeah.

18 THE COURT: All right. And Mr. Anschutz, are you 19 able to prioritize that, then, given the September 29th date?

20 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yes, and I -- September 29th
21 is pretty far off. I would think we could have his documents 22 produced in advance of September 29th, yes.

23 THE COURT: Well in advance.

24 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yeah, sure.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: And finally, Your Honor, on 2 that point, since Matt's here, of the remaining depositions
3 for which we have asked dates and have not received dates, 41 4 days on. Three of them are Governors or alternates, and 5 that's Mr. Lemieux, Jeremy Jacobs, and Ted Leonsis. And for 6 those Governors, we have neither dates nor, as I understand 7 it, do we yet have a forecasted completion date for all of 8 their ESI and whatever other documents have not been produced.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Martino, for those three Governors 10 or alternate Governors, have you collected documents yet for 11 them?

12 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: No.

13 THE COURT: All right. Can you prioritize, then, 14 those, one, two, three, four Governors? That's an Anschutz, 15 Lemieux, Jacobs and Leonsis.

16 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yeah, we'll make all efforts 17 to prioritize them, yes.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Great. Thanks.

19 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I think with that, Your Honor, 20 I've said what I needed to say. Thank you very much.

22 Mr. Beisner.

23 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, if I may just a 24 couple of points on this from the League's perspective. First 25 of all, on the scheduling, I understand Mr. Grygiel's

1 frustration on the timing. I do think this, it took X days to 2 schedule a deposition is probably not a very fair measure. As 3 Your Honor is well aware, for example, with respect to the 4 five owners, our understanding initially from Mr. Grygiel's 5 communication was that the focus of those depositions was 6 going to be on Club operations. You heard the concerns
7 expressed by the Clubs at the last informal discovery
8 conference.

9 On the apex issue, the Court gave your views. And 10 when Mr. Grygiel said, no, the focus is more on the Board of 11 Governors' activities of these individuals, we at the League 12 took over the scheduling process. And we're doing our best to 13 get these scheduled as soon as we can. And these dates are 14 being guided, in part, by what you just discussed with 15 Mr. Martino, and that is getting documents gathered. So, it's 16 not a matter of getting a request in. And we've had to do 17 this with all of these others, as well, is figure out what the 18 document production is, talk to the person, work out dates, 19 and so on.

20 And so I -- we shouldn't belabor this point, Your 21 Honor, but I just think for the record need to indicate we've 22 not been dragging our feet on this. There have been 23 intervening events that the Court has had to address on some 24 of these. And I think the main thing to look at is, you know, 25 the Plaintiffs asked for ten early depositions before the

1 completion of -- substantial completion of document
2 production. And, you know, a substantial number of those have 3 been completed.

4 Those that haven't, you know -- Mr. Fraser retained
5 counsel at some point, so we had to put that off. Mr. Gapski
6 has been delayed primarily -- and I appreciate Counsel's 7 willingness to do it, but he was involved in the play-offs and 8 so we waited to schedule that. So, these are -- and I just 9 want to make clear. I'm not debating the timeframes that he 10 indicates, but I do think that to suggest that there's been 11 some foot dragging on that is inappropriate.

12 Your Honor, let me -- if I may, I wanted to come 13 back to the objections in the depositions because there's a 14 couple of fundamental things here that I think we all need to 15 be thinking about on this front. And this is just to make 16 sure we're all on the same page here based on some discussions 17 we had earlier. The questions that are being asked in the 18 depositions regard the experiences of former players, for the 19 most part, who are not any of the six named Plaintiffs or the 20 others who have filed lawsuits from whom we will be getting 21 waivers. And I just wanted to make sure we're all on the same 22 page of the scope of discovery that we're supposed to be 23 talking about here, because I have no problem with the 24 questions being asked about individual players who are not 25 named Plaintiffs or in that other group.

1 But there was a point during our discussion of the 2 Plaintiff fact sheet where I think Plaintiffs were taking the 3 position that, you know, this is all going to be about the six 4 named Plaintiffs. We are permitted to gather information 5 through the Plaintiff fact sheet regarding the 54 others who 6 have filed actions. But during that discussion, the 7 Plaintiffs were saying, well, but you can't use that for class 8 certification. That's not part of it. And I just want to be 9 clear we're on the same page that these inquiries -- and I'm 10 not debating them, I'm not suggesting that these should be 11 shut down in any way -- but that we're all in agreement here
12 that these inquiries about former players who are putative 13 class members and -- but are not the six named Plaintiffs are 14 appropriate because I think both sides are going to want to be 15 making inquiry and producing evidence on the class
16 certification issue that goes beyond the six named Plaintiffs.
17 And I just want to make sure that if we're doing this, the 18 same rules apply to both sides on this.

19 THE COURT: So, are you saying that to the extent
20 the Plaintiffs inquire about other players, you should get a 21 fact sheet from them? Is that --

22 MR. JOHN BEISNER: No, no, no, no, Your Honor. I 23 just want to -- and there's really two things here I want to 24 make sure about is that -- that we're likewise able to make 25 inquiry -- I'm not talking about, to be clear, taking

1 discovery from any of the Plaintiffs, making them be part of 2 the discovery process. But if any are willing to provide 3 information or we otherwise have information about those -- 4 those players that are part of the discovery process, that we 5 have the equal right to talk about those, as well, as part of 6 the class certification process.

7 THE COURT: Okay. I'm not completely understanding 8 what you're saying. Are you saying that if you have some 9 information about these players, you can use that during the 10 class certification --

11 MR. JOHN BEISNER: That's fundamentally what I'm 12 saying, Your Honor --

13 THE COURT: Are you sharing that information you're 14 going to use?

15 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I'm talking about things that are 16 in the discovery process. Yes, Your Honor. Really what I'm 17 getting at, Your Honor -- just to make sure we're on the same 18 page and I'm remembering -- during the discussion of the 19 Plaintiff Fact Sheets, so these were for the 54 who are not 20 the named Plaintiffs, there was a point at which, if I'm 21 remembering correctly, Plaintiffs were saying you don't need 22 that until next year because that's not relevant to class 23 certification.

24 Your Honor said, no, we're going to get those done.
25 And I think implicitly in that was saying, yeah, that some of

1 that information may be relevant, as well, but I just want to 2 make sure we're on the same page because if the rule is we're 3 only focusing on the six, then that's an easy resolution to 4 this. I'm not arguing for that, Your Honor. I just want to 5 make sure we have an equal playing field on this.

6 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

7 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, the other thing that 8 I did want to raise on this issue that I -- and as I've 9 listened in on these calls, I think there's been some 10 confusion about is the following on this issue. The 11 privileges that are being asserted with respect to these 12 medical record inquiries don't belong to the League, they 13 don't belong to the Clubs. These belong to the former 14 players, the putative class members. And, you know, it's sort 15 of like a situation where I get called as a witness to testify 16 about privileged communications that I had with a client. As 17 an attorney, I would have to decline to answer those questions 18 unless my client waived the privilege.

19 THE COURT: But, you see, it's very different here 20 because the privilege in the medical setting is a privilege 21 being physician and patient. And I worry, as I said at the 22 informal, that you are extending this way beyond that to any 23 reference to any medical question, whether or not it had 24 anything to do with a communication with a doctor.

25 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Well, Your Honor, and that's --

1 that's the scope issue on that, which will resolve through the 2 process. But what is concerning to me is the fact that it's 3 fundamentally the privilege of the patient. The patient can 4 waive it.

5 THE COURT: The patient privilege has to do with his 6 communications with his doctor.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And let's assume we're talking 10 about that. I don't mean to be saying that.

11 THE COURT: Yeah.

12 MR. JOHN BEISNER: But it's the patient who needs to 13 waive that. The League can't --

14 THE COURT: If the question, in fact, inquires about 15 communications between patient and --

16 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Yeah, and I'm just --

17 THE COURT: But some of these questions don't do 18 that. That's why we need to drill down on this. Yeah.

19 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And I'm not disagreeing with that 20 at all, Your Honor. I guess my point is the following, is 21 that we would love to just talk about this. As you said
22 before, we're between a rock and a hard place. We had no 23 concerns about any of these folks talking about those 24 communications, and a very simple solution to this is to ask 25 the player if he has any objection to this.

1 THE COURT: But only if it, in fact, has to do with 2 privileged communications.

3 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, I have --

4 THE COURT: And the fact that somebody who is not 5 the physician or the player knows all this stuff makes you 6 wonder whether that's been waived to begin with, you see.

7 MR. JOHN BEISNER: But, Your Honor, I'm saying that 8 you could cut through all of this by simply asking the player
9 before the deposition if there was any concern about questions 10 being asked of the treating physician on this issue. We could 11 deal with this. And the documents that have been used were 12 disclosed before the deposition. There's no secret about 13 these questions being asked. All that has to happen is for 14 someone to call the player and say, "We want to ask some 15 questions in this deposition about this concussion event. Do 16 you have any objection to the physician answering?" And we're 17 done with this.

18 THE COURT: All right. Well, we'll keep that in 19 mind, but I want to see these questions, as well, because some 20 of them we don't need to call the player I guess is my point.

21 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, I agree completely 22 with that. But there's this assumption here that -- and 23 again, Your Honor, we need to go through this and I'm not 24 suggesting that there isn't need for clarification on breadth.
25 I thought what Your Honor had said provided clarity. And it's

1 not clear to me what we're still arguing about on that, but it
2 seems to me that though this suggestion about inquiry about 3 that as though the League or the Clubs are blocking this, it 4 is simply an effort to make sure that privilege line isn't 5 crossed. The Court needs to give some guidance on that.

6 But again, we're talking here about getting 7 information about putative class members. They're Plaintiffs 8 in this case. All they have to do is say, ask any question 9 you want and we don't -- and we'd love to have that be the 10 outcome because we have no concern about talking about that.
11 But nobody is making an effort to ask these players if they 12 care. They're putative class members here. So, to go back to 13 my example --

14 THE COURT: I hear you. I understand.

15 MR. JOHN BEISNER: -- it's like nobody asking my 16 client if it's okay for me to talk about it. That's -- and it 17 seems to me we've missed the boat on the easiest way to deal 18 with this.

19 THE COURT: Certainly if we're going to take team
20 doctors' depositions, we might want to do that. The question, 21 I think, is when we take others who know about this 22 information because perhaps it was published in an article 23 or -- why we're still implicating privilege in that setting.
24 And that's why we need to determine where the line is.

25 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Yeah, and I'm not debating it. I

1 thought we had that resolved from Your Honor's comments, but 2 I'll let Chris address that since he's been in those 3 conversations.

4 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Thank you very much, John.
5 Good morning, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Schmidt.

7 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: I think that issue is not 8 the issue before the Court, the one that you're raising. From 9 the beginning, the Clubs, if there's publicly-available 10 information, we would always produce that. If somebody -- if 11 there's a public information that somebody knows from a public 12 source, that's fair game.

13 What we're dealing with in the example Mr. Grygiel
14 gave was Jim McCrossin. Jim McCrossin is an athletic trainer 15 who works hand in glove with the doctor under the doctor's 16 direction. He's the eyes and ears of the doctors, often how 17 an athletic trainer is termed. Involved in his rehab, 18 involved in the confidential medical communications. In those 19 instances, if you want to know why he did something or why a 20 doctor and Mr. McCrossin together reached a medical 21 determination that a player couldn't be cleared to play, for 22 example, and they weren't going to return him to the ice, that 23 implicates a whole host of very confidential, sensitive 24 medical information.

25 And this is something that the first time we talked

1 about scheduling the depositions, I raised two concerns. My 2 first concern was I'm concerned about going forward with these 3 before you have the documents. I don't want to put these 4 gentlemen up first. And Counsel said, we understand, that's 5 what we want to do. I said, okay, fine. So, my second 6 concern is this private medical privilege, especially for our 7 team docs and our athletic trainers, because if you want to 8 talk about any player beyond the six -- or the 60, then we're 9 going to have issues. And what I suggested was, hey, we're 10 months in advance of scheduling these, these are -- it's very 11 early, let us know any player you want to talk about and go 12 get the authorization. Let us know in advance, and the 13 trainer or doctor will talk about it.

14 I think Mr. Beisner said it well: The trainers and 15 doctors would be happy to talk about any care they provided 16 whatsoever, but they need to know that they can do that. And 17 this is ultimately the players' privilege. And so as Clubs, 18 we're in a really difficult position, Your Honor. And the 19 position is it's not our privilege to waive. We can't do that 20 on behalf of the player, and we need to find the right line.
21 And so as a result, you provided very helpful guidance in 22 Mr. Holmgren's deposition: Facts are fair game, what you saw 23 are fair game. If you're the person and you experienced it, 24 what you felt is fair game. Whether someone returned to the 25 ice or not, that's a fact, that's fair game. But the actual

1 medical diagnosis or treatment or the discussions between the 2 trainer and doctor and the player about their medical 3 treatment are protected. And all of those are fair game if we 4 get an authorization from the player, but without that, that's 5 something that we can't do.

6 As a result of your guidance, there was -- I wasn't 7 sure if we had actually reached agreement. I thought we had, 8 based on your guidance, and we're prepared to live with that 9 and think it's the right line. Plaintiffs had made some 10 statements to me that made me think we had not reached 11 agreement. I said, can we have a call to discuss these 12 issues? And we finally got it set up for yesterday and did 13 have a long, substantive call where we -- my goal was to try 14 and find common ground. What questions can we ask? All the 15 facts are fair game. Where's the line going to be drawn? And 16 I think the challenge where we got to was, what happens when 17 you have an article where a person or player talks about their 18 medical condition to some extent? How far can we go? Has 19 there been a waiver?

20 And on that issue, what we've said is, you can ask 21 about what's in the article; you can ask if they recall making 22 that statement. Did they make that statement? But you can't 23 go beyond it. And the case law supports that. And we can 24 brief that, and I can take you through chapter and verse. But 25 essentially -- and I can cite one case from the Colorado

1 Supreme Court where the Court -- where Plaintiff had actually 2 put his medical condition arguably at issue by claiming 3 emotional distress and mental anguish.

4 The Defendants wanted to get into that 5 Plaintiffs' medical condition. And the Colorado Supreme Court
6 said, no, you can't. Just because you claim mental anguish 7 and even though you're the Plaintiff, that doesn't operate as 8 a complete waiver.

9 THE COURT: Well, but what -- I've seen those cases.
10 I've seen that argument made in connection with employment 11 cases.

12 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Right.

13 THE COURT: Where there are claims for emotional 14 distress, that is a very different issue.

15 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: I agree, but what I think 16 is instructive about that, Your Honor, is that there it was 17 actually the Plaintiff. Here we're dealing with nonparties, 18 parties who have not put their medical conditions at issue.
19 And so when we get to these questions, there's, I think, two 20 solutions. One is the court could -- a court could find that 21 there has been some sort of waiver, and then we'd have to 22 define to what degree; or we could get an authorization or 23 some -- some permission to talk about those conditions and --

24 THE COURT: I don't disagree with you. I think the 25 first inquiry is, is it seeking privileged information? Is

1 the question seeking privileged information?

2 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Agreed.

3 THE COURT: And then if it is seeking privileged 4 information, has there been a waiver?

5 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Agreed. And then to what 6 extent --

7 THE COURT: (Inaudible due to overlapping speakers.)
8 And I think frankly from the discussion we had during the 9 deposition, I was concerned that we were talking about some 10 questions that didn't seek privileged information. That's 11 what I'm trying to say.

12 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: And I understand that, and 13 that's an appropriate distinction. And your guidance was very 14 helpful. What we are focused on and what they're focused on 15 is the doctors and the trainers where it's clearly medical 16 privileged information. They've acknowledged it in their 17 briefs. And there, we -- I can't make that decision, and the 18 trainer can't, and the doctor can't. Only the player can or a 19 Court. If you want to rule on an individual player basis that 20 there's been a waiver, then -- then that seems incredibly 21 cumbersome to me. I think there's a more eloquent solution, a 22 simple solution which is, if you want to get into that, 23 there's only, in any given deposition, going to be two or 24 three players that are nonparties that they really want to 25 talk about.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: They can get those -- and 3 if they can't get those authorizations, then I think the 4 player has spoken, he really doesn't want -- has spoken by 5 silence that the player doesn't want his medical conditions 6 discussed any further.

7 THE COURT: But you're willing to participate in 8 what Mr. Grygiel said, this briefing to the Court where I 9 actually see the kinds of questions that might be asked and 10 your response to --

11 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Absolutely.

12 THE COURT: -- whether they're privileged in the 13 first instance and the like?

14 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Absolutely. Your Honor, 15 thank you very much.

16 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: Very briefly, Your Honor, 17 Steve Grygiel again.

18 I'd like to make just a couple of points. I
19 understand Mr. Beisner's approach and Mr. Schmidt echoed it 20 which is, Your Honor, if we could just cut through all, and 21 the pronoun was "this." Well, the "this" is an artificial 22 construct in many cases, as Your Honor points out.

23 For example, let's make this specific so everyone 24 understands exactly what we're talking about. Apart from the 25 NHL defense I've already mentioned -- that we gave the

1 warnings, you guys are all wet, we gave the warnings --
2 there's another one, and that is, we had a Concussion 3 Protocol, and we have modified it, and we gave it to the 4 Clubs, and the Clubs are required to follow it.

5 But then we get a document that shows Julie Grand, 6 who's on this call, saying, the Clubs aren't following it to 7 the extent of some 36 percent of the time, we see players 8 visibly concussed on the ice. Those are players observed by 9 the Concussion Working Group, not the team doctors, and not 10 the team trainers, who are visibly concussed while they're 11 playing the game. And then there's an e-mail chain saying, 12 that doesn't sound like it's being complied with. I'm 13 paraphrasing, but Your Honor gets the point. Those are 14 certainly things we're going to want to inquire about. How 15 did they measure that? Who were the players? What was the 16 team? And make sure that maybe there is -- maybe there is 17 more players like that.

18 Very important to us. So, it's not as Mr. Schmidt 19 said. I think in fairness, it's not just doctors and 20 trainers. It's going to be the fact witnesses, as well. And 21 number two, as to the question of the "this," we can just call 22 these forecasted players whose names may or may not come up 23 and ask them, not only is it cumbersome, I think it's 24 completely legally unnecessary and unduly burdensome for the 25 Plaintiffs if there is no privilege in the first place. And

1 if there is an NHL document that lists the names of the 2 players who have been concussed, where on the ice they were,
3 what their symptoms were, or whatever it was that details this 4 particular concussion and it goes to the Board of Governors
5 and it goes to the General Managers and it goes to the NHL 6 executive offices who are talking about it, I find it hard to 7 see, Your Honor, how anybody could say that is a protected 8 patient privilege. That's just not there, and that's what 9 we're going to be talking about in this upcoming 10 correspondence with the Court.

11 Two other points. Mr. Beisner made the point that 12 early --

13 THE COURT REPORTER: Mr. Grygiel.

14 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I'm sorry. When I try to get 15 done quickly, you see what happens.

16 THE COURT: And she appreciates that.

17 MR. STEPHEN GRYGIEL: I know she does, Your Honor.
18 And I told her I have no shame, you can tell me any time.

19 In terms of the early depositions, while we 20 scheduled three, we asked for three on February 23rd. Of 21 those three, we have two, and they didn't take place for, I 22 think, two-and-a-half months, and that was Mr. McCrossin and 23 Dr. Burke. They didn't take place for at least two-and-a-half 24 months after we asked. Obviously Mr. Bettman is not going to 25 be until July 31. I think to say that we asked for early

1 depositions and we got them all is just not right. That's not 2 where we are today. Now these are standard. Lots of 3 documents out there. Since they're there, we're going to use 4 the documents and take these depositions.

5 And finally, Your Honor, on the question of the 6 owner depositions, I don't think I said at our conference that 7 we were strictly going to focus on the owners' rules as 8 members of the Board of Governors. And Mr. Beisner and I have 9 had an exchange about this. I think we're in agreement, we 10 will obviously ask these folks questions about their Club 11 operations concerning the concussion issues, and if they don't 12 know, they don't know. It will shorten the deposition. But 13 as Your Honor knows, we'd like to do this only once, and it 14 makes sense to ask them since they're going to be there.

15 Thank you, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay. I have a suggestion here. It 17 would apply to both sides of the case, and I think it might 18 help you when you're scheduling your witnesses to say, hey, 19 the Court has a rule on this. And the rule would be that 20 either side would have to respond to a request for a 21 deposition within two weeks. So, if the request is made, 22 there needs to be a response within two weeks with a date, and 23 that date needs to be within the following six weeks. That 24 seems like a reasonable schedule, and I think that will 25 actually assist primarily the defense with their witnesses

1 saying, hey, I got to get back, the Court has a rule.

2 So -- okay. I haven't heard from the Plaintiffs on 3 Mr. Beisner's point.

4 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, just a quick point on 5 that because I think it applies to most of these. I do -- I 6 did want to just make sure that if there are issues regarding 7 the deposition, we will raise those --

8 THE COURT: We'll call it a rebuttable presumption.
9 Okay?

10 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Just wanted to make sure because 11 that, for a large number of these, we did have some 12 clarification we could --

13 THE COURT: Good cause will work, yes. Okay.

14 All right. Mr. Zimmerman, do you want to address 15 Mr. Beisner's question about the scope of briefing on class 16 certification with respect to these non-class folks?

17 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Yeah. Well, what I really 18 wanted to say, Your Honor, on that was I think we should be 19 talking on the agenda going forward, is this whole thing of 20 class certification and preparing for that because this is 21 really what Mr. Beisner is starting to talk about, which is 22 the impact of all this on class certification and how wide 23 this tent of privilege and/or the tent of discovery go with 24 regard to class certification issues. And so even though I 25 wasn't prepared for it today because it wasn't something on

1 the agenda and I know that John gets crazy if I talk about 2 something that's not on the agenda, it's fair game that we 3 should be a little more free-wheeling here and be able to 4 address it.

5 I'm not sure what John was really driving at there.
6 We don't have any problem with trying to provide information 7 that -- from Plaintiff Fact Sheets of the 50, of the 54. We 8 don't have a problem with this medical question as much as 9 they do. They -- it seems to continue to bother them, and 10 we're of the mind that we're looking not for individual 11 medical information as between doctor and patient -- doctor
12 and player. I don't know that there's a trainer privilege. I
13 think that's a little broad. I don't think we have trainer 14 privilege. I think there's a doctor privilege. We're not 15 trying to get to that, and we're not using that in any way for 16 our discovery purposes, but we're trying to find out who the 17 protocols were, what the practices were, what things have been 18 put out to the press, as Steve Grygiel has just mentioned.

19 The impact on class certification, I'm not prepared
20 to address that really particularly today, other than to say I 21 think we should be starting to talk about it and be prepared 22 to have free discussion with the Court on it. But it seems to 23 me what we're really talking about, practice and procedure, 24 policies that were in place, how things were handled in a 25 generic way, used, of course, by example in particular

1 instances. But we're talking about class issues that are the 2 type of process and procedure and common course of conduct and 3 the way the League handled itself and the way the trainers
4 handled direction from above, that's where the class
5 certification questions come in. And these are not about 6 individual players.

7 Obviously, the defense, in an effort to perhaps 8 defeat class, will try and talk about, oh, no, no, this is 9 really an individual question, it's really a question of 10 individual -- done to an individual player and you have to get 11 a waiver and you have to get the player to sign on and waive 12 and we just don't think we have to go there.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman, I appreciate that you are 14 going to argue what you're saying now at the time of class 15 certification motion, and I think you appreciate that 16 Mr. Beisner is going to focus probably entirely on the 17 individual folks. I think his question is this: Are you on 18 the same page about absent class members? I mean, we have 19 Plaintiff Fact Sheets from the named Plaintiffs and the 54, 20 but he's talking about absent class members now, and I think 21 you need to talk about that.

22 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Sure.

23 THE COURT: I don't have the answer to that off the 24 top of my head, but I want you folks to have some 25 understanding about that.

1 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I can tell you this, Your 2 Honor, and we've talked about this in chambers and I think 3 we've talked about it in court. We are setting up a protocol.
4 We're setting up a way to do Plaintiff Fact Sheets that would 5 be easy and available and efficient for the entire group of 6 Plaintiffs or putative class members that are out there when 7 the time comes that that's important and relevant. The whole
8 idea of doing the Plaintiff Fact Sheet came from me, as well, 9 saying let's come up with a Plaintiff Fact Sheet that's 10 ordered, that's reasonable, that's reasonable in scope, and we 11 can do it electronically, and then we can have it done in a 12 21st century way. And we're putting that in place.

13 So, in answer to the question, we're preparing to 14 have that rolled out. The question is when: Before class 15 certification, after certification, if class certification is 16 affirmed, if class certification is denied. Those parameters 17 will help us define it, but we're preparing our Plaintiff Fact 18 Sheet and we're preparing our protocols so that we can roll 19 out to all affected retired players.

20 THE COURT: I think you need to talk about this. I 21 am worried you're not on the same page on this. Yeah.

22 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Okay. And I'm happy to talk 23 about it.

25 Mr. Beisner?

1 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I don't want to belabor the 2 point, but just while we're here and talking about it, I think 3 what you just said raises the issue. And you're talking about 4 the Plaintiff Fact Sheets, when the time is right and so on, 5 which suggests to me that you're, again, going back to what 6 was said during the meetings with the Court which was, well, 7 nothing -- only information about the six named Plaintiffs 8 can -- is fair game for discussion during class certification, 9 such that these drill-downs we're doing with respect to 10 unnamed class members in these depositions and all these 11 communications with physicians and so on is outside that 12 scope. I love it. I'm happy for this. I love that, you 13 know, to test our defenses, there's got to be exploration of 14 individual Plaintiff circumstances.

15 And, you know, you can be sure all of this 16 discussion is going to be in our class certification brief.
17 But I just want to be sure that if we're spending time in the 18 depositions drilling down on people who are not class 19 representatives, as has been happening in these depositions, 20 we're not going to turn around and say, but you can't talk 21 about anybody who isn't in -- named in that Master Complaint.
22 You can't talk about their experiences, you can't talk about 23 any other evidence that may be in the record. That's simply 24 a -- and, Your Honor, I'm sorry to belabor this. I just 25 wanted to make sure, agree with you, I think that frames the

1 issue.

2 THE COURT: I think it does, and I can tell you need
3 a meet and confer. I'm not sure you've had this discussion
4 so -- with each other. So --

5 MR. JOHN BEISNER: But again, if the conclusion is 6 we're only talking about the six, that takes care of this 7 because we're not talking about these drill-downs --

8 THE COURT: Just be on the same page on this. Okay.

9 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Yes, that's all.

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: So, my suggestion that we 12 should have class certification issues on the agenda seems to 13 be a good one, and we will continue to have it and we will 14 meet and confer.

16 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: The next issue, Your Honor,
17 is third-party discovery update. Third-party discovery update
18 is going to be Brian Penny, and it's going to really touch 19 upon a little bit of what we've just -- of what we just 20 discussed. But I think it's -- I think it's important, and I 21 think this update will again frame -- frame a lot of the 22 questions that we're struggling with right now.

24 Mr. Penny.

25 Good morning, Mr. Penny.

1 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Good morning, Your Honor, Brian 2 Penny for the Plaintiffs.

3 Actually slightly different than the way Bucky just 4 described it, I was going to give you the third-party update 5 and try to be very careful not to let that update bleed into 6 the next agenda item, which is to discuss the motion to compel 7 the subpoenas, responses to subpoenas to the U.S. Clubs which 8 deal with private medical information. So, just on 9 third-party discovery, aside from PMI issues the update is 10 somewhat similar to the Board of Governors update.

11 As you'll remember, Plaintiff subpoenaed the U.S.
12 Clubs back in the end of January. We finally agreed on 13 custodians and search terms at the end of May. That 14 discussion or that negotiation was actually linked to the 15 Board of Governors' discussion on search terms, and so the 16 search terms for both sets of custodians is essentially the 17 same. And I believe the collection process is also 18 essentially the same. And I think Mr. Schmidt will probably 19 give us an update of where they are because, frankly, we don't 20 really have a good sense of where they are in the collection 21 process, and we certainly don't yet have a commitment date on 22 when the first productions were -- will start rolling out and 23 by when those productions will be substantially complete. So, 24 I'll wait to hear that update from Mr. Schmidt.

25 As regards to some of the other third-party

1 discovery, we've been taking a wait-and-see approach a little 2 bit, trying to be very cognizant not to seek duplicative
3 discovery from other third-parties. So, examples of that are 4 Dr. Lovell and ImPACT. If we can get some of the information
5 and databases that Dr. Lovell and ImPACT have collected 6 through their neuropsych testing program from the NHL, we 7 might not have to seek it separately from those two entities.
8 Same goes for Chubb Insurance Corporation that provides some 9 workers' comp insurance for the teams. If we can get certain 10 data and information from the NHL, we may not need to seek all 11 of that or some of that from Chubb.

12 So, we're taking a little bit of a wait-and-see 13 approach with them. And if there are holes that need to be 14 filled in and those third-parties can fill them in, then we'll 15 resume the negotiations with them. And I can just give you, 16 it's essentially the same update on the Canadian -- the 17 letters rogatory to the Canadian Clubs. We really feel like 18 we're only going to get one shot with each of those Club -- or 19 excuse me, with each of those courts in the various provinces 20 in Canada. And part of our burden will be to show that we are 21 not seeking discovery from those third-parties that we can get 22 from, perhaps, the NHL. So, we need to first see what the 23 Board of Governors are going to give us, see what the NHL
24 database can give us before we actually embark on the letters
25 rogatory process. So, that's the update for third-parties.

1 THE COURT: You bet.

2 Mr. Schmidt.

3 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Good morning, Your Honor.
4 Our update is similar to Mr. Martino's. We are coordinating 5 with the Clubs to try to get the relevant e-mails. I think we 6 could really follow very similar schedule by July 21st to have 7 roughly about 10 of the Clubs' first production completed.
8 And the goal then, I believe the Court gave the -- to complete 9 all of those was the end of August. Was that the goal on that 10 and that's what we're striving to, as well. And we will 11 continue to pursue it --

12 THE COURT: And to the extent that the Plaintiffs 13 would like you to prioritize any of that, you should --

14 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Happy to do so. And, in 15 fact, we were planning to do that without even them asking.
16 We had scheduled already Mr. Gapski's deposition for 17 July 15th, as soon as the Stanley cup was finished, and we 18 just heard yesterday they may want to postpone it. But we 19 were going to try and get that production out in an 20 expeditious fashion. It looks like that's not an issue right 21 now, but we will do that, of course, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Sounds good.

23 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Thank you.

24 THE COURT: Mr. Penny? Oh, Mr. Beisner.

25 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, if I may just on one

1 point, and perhaps Mr. Penny will respond to this. Just in 2 terms of timing issues here, Plaintiffs are perfectly free to 3 proceed as they wish, but consistent with the concern about 4 timing.

5 At the very first status conference, there was 6 discussion made by one of Plaintiffs' counsel about initiating 7 a letter rogatory process to get the information needed from 8 the Canadian Clubs. And, you know, I think the information 9 that is being -- that we agreed to collect from the Clubs is 10 with respect to the BoG members that had been agreed upon. I 11 just want to make clear that if Plaintiffs are intending to 12 seek the broader collection of discovery that's been sought 13 from the U.S. Clubs, that's not going to be part of that.
14 We're doing the review -- correct me if I'm wrong, Matt -- 15 with respect to the BoG members who have been specified. This 16 isn't a general production from the Clubs.

17 And, you know, they're separate entities, and that's 18 the decision they've made. We've done the Governors' search 19 because of the purported relationship with the League. So, 20 just in terms of timing, so we're not coming back here later 21 and saying, oh, we've got a big delay, get the train started.
22 You know, this initial issue is raised at the very first 23 status conference, and if those requests are to be made, get 24 them started. The -- my understanding from the Clubs --
25 Canadian Clubs' counsel is they're not resisting discovery,

1 they're just saying, go through this process so we can deal 2 with these issues in the Canadian court system. But they're 3 not saying they're not producing. And the delay here is that 4 no one has started that process.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Penny makes a good point, 6 though, about concern about whether the courts will order this 7 production. And in Canada, I presume the letters rogatory 8 have to go through the court system there.

9 MR. BRIAN PENNY: They do, and it's a very detailed 10 process. And like I said, I really believe we'll only get one 11 shot at that. So with all due respect to John's concerns 12 about timing, we really can't proceed until we feel like we've 13 got our best position to put forward to those courts.

14 THE COURT: But it looks like we'll have substantial 15 completion by the end of August, so you should, early fall, be 16 able to take a look at that.

17 MR. BRIAN PENNY: I mean, I just heard Mr. Beisner, 18 though, say that the Canadian Clubs are not resisting 19 production, but we have to then go through this very long and 20 detailed process of getting the letters rogatory issued first.
21 If they're really not resisting production, I wish they would 22 just respond to the subpoenas. I'd be happy to send them out, 23 you know, tomorrow, and we could go through the same process 24 we did with the U.S. Clubs. But --

25 THE COURT: Mr. Beisner, do you think there's any

1 chance we could avoid this unnecessary process?

2 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, the problem is what 3 we talked about earlier, and it's the medical records issue.
4 They need a Canadian court direction on what they would be 5 doing on those issues, which is based on the request of the 6 U.S. Clubs, a lot of this.

7 THE COURT: Well, then let's do this. When -- I'll 8 get these questions, I will give you my viewpoint. Perhaps we 9 can then stipulate to an approach to that, and you can give 10 that to the Canadian court.

11 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And, Brian, I understand your 12 position, but I think just getting this rolling, it may mean 13 it gets winnowed, it may mean there aren't disputes about 14 things, but I'm just not sure that it's wise to be waiting on 15 that. Again, I -- I don't mean to be telling anybody how to 16 litigate the other side of the case, but it -- you know, I 17 think we heard in the first status conference we're going to 18 need a letter rogatory and get this started and it just hasn't 19 happened.

20 THE COURT: But Mr. Beisner, wouldn't you agree that 21 the Canadian court is going to wonder how this Court has been 22 handling the medical issues with the U.S. Clubs, and so I'm 23 not sure it could have happened any faster.

24 MR. JOHN BEISNER: I didn't mean to suggest that 25 what you were just suggesting isn't the appropriate way to

1 proceed. But what I'm saying is, you probably would have had 2 production there by now had the process been started when you
3 did it with the U.S. Clubs.

4 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Okay. So, this is all new 5 information, again, and this is now the first time I've heard 6 that the only objection that the Canadian Clubs might have is 7 really just a private medical information because the U.S.
8 Clubs are producing other information, apparently, is being 9 collected as Mr. Schmidt just mentioned about e-mails that 10 don't relate to private medical information. So, again, if 11 the process is I send them the subpoena and they start 12 producing non-PMI and we talk about PMI separately with them, 13 I'm happy to start that process --

14 THE COURT: Is that possible, Mr. Beisner?

15 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Again, I don't know why there 16 hasn't been a discussion with the Clubs there about what can 17 get started. It just hasn't been pursued --

18 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Well, the problem --

19 MR. JOHN BEISNER: And I can't speak for the Clubs, 20 Your Honor. I don't mean to suggest that. But the -- there 21 has been no presentation of -- as far as I know, tell me if 22 I'm wrong -- of a proposed subpoena to them --

23 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Oh, there has been. In fact, the 24 very first conversation I had with Mr. Shamie, Canadian Clubs' 25 counsel, was I offered -- I gave them an example -- or an

1 exemplar of one of the subpoenas. I said, here's what I would 2 like to serve on your Clubs; will you accept it? He said, no, 3 you have to go through the letters rogatory process.

4 It was the same conversation I had with him when we 5 tried to schedule Mr. Shanahan's deposition which was, here's 6 a subpoena for Mr. Shanahan; can we have a date? He said, no, 7 you have to go through the process of serving it through 8 Canadian law. I drafted an 18-page motion. I tried to meet 9 and confer with Mr. Shamie on it for two weeks -- actually, 10 three weeks.

11 He couldn't get in touch with his counsel -- excuse 12 me, his client. I then filed the motion. A day later we got 13 the date, and Mr. Shanahan told the Toronto press, I never 14 objected to having my deposition taken. Well, if that's true, 15 why did I have to jump through the hoop of writing an 18-page 16 motion to get a date for a deposition?

17 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Well, I think what's missing here 18 is they are saying that they want you to go through Canadian 19 process. That doesn't mean that they don't agree to produce 20 once you have done that. And that seems to me to be the 21 disconnect here is, if you talked -- and again, I haven't been 22 in these conversations, and I apologize --

23 MR. BRIAN PENNY: I understand.

24 MR. JOHN BEISNER: -- because I haven't been there, 25 but it seems to me if I can make a third-party suggestion here

1 that if you talk to Canadian counsel and say, we're going to 2 go through this process, we're going to do this under Canadian 3 law, but let's talk about what you are going to do once we do 4 that, it seems to me you're not getting past the point of your 5 saying, will you do it without my going through the letter
6 rogatory process? That's where the conversation is ending, 7 and that's what I'm just suggesting. And I should probably 8 stand down now because this is a discussion with the Clubs.

9 MR. BRIAN PENNY: I will take that suggestion. I 10 will call Mr. Shamie again and see if he's had a change of 11 heart. But what I don't understand is why Mr. Shamie is 12 going -- has told me before, and with Shanahan's deposition 13 scheduling he told me the same thing, you have to go through 14 the process. If going through the process means he's not 15 going to then object to the process once it gets underway, why
16 did I even have to start it to begin with, why didn't you --

17 THE COURT: Why don't you place a call. Why don't 18 you tell him what Mr. Beisner has suggested. And I mean, 19 Mr. Schmidt, can you be of use here too (laughter) --

20 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: That may be debatable.
21 So, here is my thought on this process is we went through a 22 pretty extensive, very civil meet and confer process and 23 reached an agreement on the U.S. Clubs. I think Mr. Beisner's 24 point is entirely right, that the Canadian counsel -- Clubs 25 should have the right to the procedural protections of going

1 through the letters rogatory process. I'm not aware of 2 Plaintiffs, though, going to Canadian counsel and saying, hey,
3 this is the deal we reached with the U.S. Clubs. If we go 4 through this process, would this be acceptable?

5 I kind of think there might be a middle ground here,
6 but the Canadian Clubs clearly are entitled to the protection 7 of Canadian law and are clearly entitled to go through the 8 letter rogatory process. But as Mr. Beisner said, that 9 doesn't mean they've ever said, hey, we're going to resist
10 this or we're not capable of finding a reasonable solution.
11 So, I think what we have, to quote Cool Hand Luke, is a 12 failure to communicate here. Plaintiffs should start the 13 process; it should call Canadian counsel. We reached a deal 14 in May. Why haven't they done anything? And we're in July on 15 this issue.

16 THE COURT: Well, maybe what would be useful is if 17 you would be on the phone so you can describe what you've done
18 for the U.S. Clubs.

19 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Happy to do so, Your 20 Honor.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

22 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Okay, I'll take those suggestions 23 and I'll make some phone calls to see where we get.

24 THE COURT: Okay. Sounds good. You'll report to us 25 at the next informal, then.

1 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

3 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I saw Cool Hand Luke. I 4 feel like the guy that's been in that box where we had -- that 5 was a result of the failure to communicate.

6 Really, Your Honor, you know, I listened to this and 7 we're trying to find easier ways, not harder ways. And so
8 anything we can do to cooperate and anything the Court can do 9 to help us reach these points, I mean as Plaintiffs, we're not 10 trying to make it difficult. We're trying to make it easy.
11 We're not trying to wait and delay and make -- give ourselves 12 more work. We're trying to have less. And so it's a little 13 counterintuitive.

14 But having said that, more communication is better.
15 We'll communicate more. We'll ask more questions, and maybe 16 the Court, with its guidelines on the private medical 17 information question, will help break a little bit of the 18 logjam. But up to now, we've really been told that, you know, 19 you got to go through the Canadian stuff and the Canadian 20 stuff is your only way to get it. And we assumed that what 21 that meant was we have to go through the Canadian stuff. And 22 we didn't want to start doing it until we had the parameters
23 of what we could ask for determined by this Court. So --

24 THE COURT: Where is Canadian counsel located? Is 25 he in Toronto?

1 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

3 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Okay. Motion to enforce 4 subpoenas directed to the U.S. Clubs.

5 THE COURT: You know what, I think what we'll do is 6 take a break.

7 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Sure.

8 THE COURT: Where are we here, yeah, we're just on 9 item six. So, we will resume in 15 minutes, at quarter to.
10 Court is briefly adjourned.

11 (Short break taken.)

12 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Your Honor, if I may.

13 THE COURT: Yes, Mr. Connolly.

14 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: When I made the introductions
15 of the people on the phone earlier today, I forgot to point 16 out for the Court that we have brought along Rich Bernardo, 17 Matt Stein, and Dennis Kiker, who is from the Granite Legal 18 System. And they are here to talk to the Court about the 19 database issues you asked during the informal conference that 20 they be present, and I just wanted to let the Court know that 21 that resource was available to you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you. We appreciate you being 23 here, and we're going to get to you soon.

24 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. Very good.

1 Mr. Zimmerman.

2 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I think with those 3 introductions, it does tip the balance towards the more 4 populated side being the defense this time.

5 The next issue, Your Honor, is motion -- motion to 6 enforce the subpoenas directed to the U.S. Clubs. And again, 7 that will be Brian Penny for the Plaintiffs. The good news
8 is, though, Your Honor, number eight, the medical -- personal 9 medical information privilege, I think we've exhausted that 10 issue, so that one can be stricken.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

12 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Penny.

14 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Morning again, Your Honor. Just 15 by way of an update, we did receive the NHL's letter 16 describing the various databases that they have. I know that 17 the Court is in receipt of that letter, as well. That was 18 very helpful, and I appreciate all the disclosure in that 19 letter.

20 For one thing, I think it helped confirm a little 21 bit for Plaintiffs that there is a bit of redundancy between 22 the various databases. So, one of the things that we are 23 working on right now is to try to determine, through 24 consultation with some of our experts, both IT experts and 25 other consultants, if gaining access to some but not all of

1 the databases might give us all the information we need. I 2 don't know if that's going to be practical, but if it is,
3 we'll certainly try to pursue it from that approach.

4 But one issue that is becoming quite clear, and I 5 think I forecasted this being an issue back on June 4th when 6 we had the discussion -- or excuse me, the argument on the 7 motion, and that is that when we try to de-identify some of 8 these databases, it's becoming very challenging. And I think 9 the challenge stems in large part from the fact that the 10 injuries themselves are very public events, they happen in -- 11 most of them happen in NHL hockey games that are seen, 12 broadcast on T.V. and seen in the arena by thousands of fans.
13 And the players themselves are very public persona.

14 And so when you try to go about de-identifying 15 fields in the database that discuss these injuries or the 16 players, it becomes very challenging because even a little bit 17 of information might be used by some expeditious person to 18 identify the player. For example, one of the fields that is 19 being claimed as sort of private is the players' native 20 language. And I think the concern there is that for some 21 native languages, there are only so few hockey players that 22 speak some of those languages, that just knowing the player's 23 native language alone might help you identify the player. But 24 yet you'll see in the letter, as well, the description of why 25 knowing the player's native language is important to 1 interpreting the neuropsych testing results for that player.

2 And so if you take that field out in an attempt to de-identify 3 the database, you're losing critical information that the 4 Plaintiffs need to assess both what the NHL did with that 5 database and what we might do with that data.

6 Another very acute example of that is the date of 7 injury. Because the injury was so public, if you have the 8 date of the injury, somebody might be able to pull an actual 9 video clip, a very public event, to identify the player from 10 the date of the injury. But, of course, I think you can -- as 11 I think you can imagine, the date of the injury is going to be 12 an important piece of information for us when we try to use 13 this data with some of our experts. It also becomes a major 14 issue when you talk about the database that was created for 15 the video analysis project. And that was a project which 16 attempted to match the video of the injury to some of the 17 medical information about the injury. And so I really can't 18 think of a practical way in which you can de-identify the 19 video itself or disaggregate it from the medical information 20 and still have the same database and same information that the 21 NHL collected.

22 And so I think part of the problem, again, is 23 because all of this is so public, it's becoming very 24 challenging to try to de-identify it. And so that's where I 25 think the most elegant solution -- and I'll sort of renew my

1 argument that none of this information is actually private, 2 protected medical information. And I think that becomes quite 3 clear when you look at some of the Defendants' own documents.

4 In opposition to the motion to compel -- and we cite 5 this in our reply brief -- there was a Daly -- a Declaration 6 from Bill Daly in which he includes -- or attaches several 7 authorizations that were signed by the players in connection
8 with collecting a lot of this information for the Concussion
9 Program. And these authorizations have the same language
10 going all the way back to 2003. And the authorizations 11 explicitly state -- and this is the player who signs this -- 12 "I understand that any of my health information that is 13 disclosed pursuant to this authorization may be redisclosed by 14 the recipient of such information and, upon such redisclosure, 15 may no longer be protected by federal healthcare privacy laws 16 and rules."

17 That's a clear indication from the player that he 18 knows the information about his concussion is not going to be 19 held confidential. Also on the June 4th argument I showed 20 Your Honor some PowerPoint slides of some of the injury
21 reports that the teams issued, and then some other public 22 media reports and press inquiries that were all collected by 23 CBS Sports about a certain player's concussions. It was all 24 sorts of information there, not just on the diagnosis of the 25 concussion but on the treatment of the concussion, when the --

1 when he was expected to return to play, et cetera. And all
2 that information, again, going back decades, players
3 understand that that information is going to be made public.

4 And as Your Honor mentioned at the June 4th hearing, 5 Article 34 of the most recent CBA makes that quite clear. And 6 I'm quoting right from it. The following information is not 7 going to be confidential: The nature of the player's injury, 8 the prognosis and anticipated length of recovery, the 9 treatment and surgical procedures undertaken or anticipated in 10 regard to the injury.

11 This is essentially all of the information that 12 we're talking about here. The most elegant solution is to 13 just simply acknowledge that this information is not private.
14 And as Your Honor acknowledged in some of the guidance you 15 gave us on June 4th, information that's in the public domain
16 is not protected by a private medical privilege. If we can 17 reach that resolution, there's no need to try to de-identify 18 these databases and remove information that is going to be 19 critical to our analysis.

20 That's all I have for Your Honor on that.

21 THE COURT: Thank you.

22 Response from the NHL?

23 MR. CHRISTOPHER SCHMIDT: Your Honor, if I may just 24 briefly address the Court -- and, please, please come up, as 25 well -- the consultant and Skadden have taken the lead on the

1 database analysis, and the only thing that I would say is when 2 we engaged in this process, it was with the Court's guidance 3 and understanding we would do the database search in an 4 anonymized, de-identified way. And there are very important
5 privacy interests that the players have. Plaintiffs 6 acknowledge that in their briefs. And I don't -- I think if 7 we get -- I hope we're not re-arguing those issues. I thought 8 we were talking about how to produce the data in a 9 de-identified way, and that's why we have just turned it over 10 to others who could look at it on a global basis. If we have 11 to revisit these issues, then I would ask for more formal 12 opportunity to brief those issues.

13 With that, I will step down.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: Good morning, Your Honor.
16 And for the transcript, this is Richard Bernardo. I will 17 represent the trio of what I will refer to as the Geek Squad 18 from the NHL. And I think we're getting a little bit ahead of 19 ourselves with --

20 THE COURT: Are you referring to all of these people 21 being the Geek Squad?

22 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: I will leave that to the 23 Court to decide (laughter).

24 THE COURT: Yes, Mr. Bernardo.

25 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: There's an equal one from

1 Plaintiffs' side.

2 Let's take a little step back, as Mr. Schmidt
3 pointed out. There's already been discussion, and we went 4 into these discussions and had a very productive meeting with 5 Plaintiffs' counsel to discuss de-identification and what we 6 did was, as you know, we provided a letter that set forth all 7 the databases. And as Mr. Penny observed, I think it's become 8 clear that there's a fair degree of overlap from one database 9 to another.

10 We also, as you probably saw with that letter, 11 provided some preliminary analysis of fields that NHL and the 12 Clubs believe ought to be de-identified. However, as we 13 emphasized to Plaintiffs, that is a concept that we're going 14 to need to continue to discuss because the scope and nature of 15 de-identification is going to depend in large part in what 16 fields Plaintiffs are interested in having information 17 produced from because these databases interrelate. And while 18 within one database, it may not reveal personal, private 19 medical information if you de-identify it, information from 20 that database can be linked to other databases that would then 21 disclose information. And again, I'm not here to re-argue, 22 and I'll defer to my colleagues to make the points about the 23 agreements and waiver and all of that. I'm really here to 24 talk about the practicalities of producing the information.

25 Mr. Penny referred to a few fields in particular,

1 and again I think the process needs to work a little bit more.
2 We talked about I think about 24 fields that Plaintiffs 3 identified at our meet and confer. And during that 4 conversation, we talked about different ways in which we could 5 anonymize them. And to be specific, I think de-identification 6 has two components. One is absolute redaction, where we would 7 not provide the information; and then the other is to 8 anonymize it, to create some code that would give them the 9 benefit of the substance of the information that they're 10 trying to work with without actually disclosing the 11 information itself. And we believe that there are ways within 12 some of the fields that we talked about to do that and to 13 accomplish that.

14 I'm not here to say that there's not going to be any 15 dispute because there may be one or two fields that we need to 16 come back to Your Honor. I'm here simply to say I think it's 17 premature for the Court to really address the specific fields
18 and the specific issues that Mr. Penny raised because I think 19 the Clubs' positions are really largely going to be dependent 20 upon them coming back and telling us, okay, we've digested 21 your 60-page letter and these are the databases we want and 22 these are the fields we want. And in fairness, too, they 23 asked us some questions that we were unable to respond to and 24 we're doing a little bit of due diligence to provide further 25 information.

1 So, I would suggest, if I may, that the Court permit 2 the parties to continue the dialogue that we've been having, 3 which has been very productive, identify what the database is 4 the Plaintiff wants and see if we can narrow down the issues
5 to ones that are clear and crystallized and, if necessary, 6 submit further papers on that.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Let me ask one question, and then 8 I'll respond to that. In terms of the anonymizing piece of 9 this, what I had in my head was that the Plaintiffs would be 10 able to -- it would be coded in a way that the Plaintiffs 11 would be able to track a player throughout all the information 12 about that player in the database. In other words, fields and 13 various databases would all be anonymized in the same way so 14 that, although you might not know the name, you would know 15 everything that that database had or those databases had about 16 that player. Do you see what I'm saying?

17 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: I certainly do, Your Honor,
18 and that's exactly what we had in mind. And you really honed 19 in on the very issue we had is that there is an 20 interrelationship among these databases so you can't look at, 21 for example, a video analysis database in isolation and say, 22 well, this is public information, because providing that 23 without anonymization is going to link you to other 24 information, in the way that we do this, that would be 25 private. So, we completely agree with Your Honor in terms of

1 how to anonymize it, but I think that that process may raise 2 other issues.

3 THE COURT: Well, and I think the issue that 4 Mr. Penny raised is a challenging issue. So much of this is 5 public. And of course you weren't there when they argued 6 about the provision of the CBA and the authorizations that 7 permit redisclosure and the like but -- and so I'm still 8 struggling with that. I'm really sort of hoping you can work 9 this out. But if I have to rule, I have to rule eventually.

10 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: Of course, Your Honor. And 11 that's what we're hoping that we can do is that maybe through 12 a process, for example, in date of injury, there may be a way 13 to code that where it doesn't pinpoint the specific date but 14 it provides them with the type of information that they would 15 need for their analysis that we want to get from the date
16 that's something other than date itself. So, we are hopeful 17 as well that we can come to some agreement.

18 Again, there may be some issues we need to come 19 back, but I think it's just premature for the Court and for 20 the parties to focus on particular fields in isolation and say 21 that they are or they are not worthy of anonymization.

22 THE COURT: Mr. Penny, do you -- would you find it 23 acceptable to continue the meet and confer process, to invite 24 these folks to our informal and so we can attempt to see if we 25 can reach resolution?

1 MR. BRIAN PENNY: We can continue the meet and 2 confer process. I'm just not very optimistic that we are 3 going to reach a resolution. And I don't know if you were 4 speaking past each other. I was maybe misinterpreting what 5 the Court said, but I don't think that the Defendants 6 completely agree with your understanding of how one of these 7 databases would be redacted.

8 What I understood Your Honor to say was that a 9 database would be anonymized in the sense that the player's 10 name would be given an anonymous number. But all the other 11 information including the date of injury, the date of 12 neuropsych testing, et cetera, would remain in the database.
13 And I don't think that the NHL is going to agree to that. If 14 they would, we would be fine.

15 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: And to Mr. Penny's point, 16 Your Honor, he's right. I think I understood you to say that 17 one of the things we would do is to anonymize it so you can 18 interpret the data across databases and Player 1 in the first 19 database isn't going to be Player 5 in another database. But 20 that anonymization may not be sufficient to protect medical 21 information, and that's something that we're prepared to 22 address on an individual basis as it arises. And we did 23 address that in the letter by pointing to those fields that we 24 thought gave rise to issue.

25 MR. BRIAN PENNY: And, again, I'm perfectly willing

1 to engage in another or some further meet and confers. What 2 I'm really hesitant to do is engage in weeks' worth of meet 3 and confers when we've, months later, decide we are at an 4 impasse and then we need Your Honor's guidance because I think 5 we're careening toward that very quickly. I think there are 6 some critical aspects of the databases that I don't think you 7 will yield to but which we think are incredibly important to 8 our analysis of those databases.

9 One perfect example is this video analysis project 10 database. The entire idea of that database was to link the 11 videos of the concussive events to the medical records about 12 those concussive events. You can't disaggregate those and 13 say, well, the videos are public, I'll give you those, but I
14 can't connect them for you to the medical records. The whole 15 point of the project was to connect those two together and 16 then analyze --

17 THE COURT: But why can't you connect them in an 18 anonymous way? In other words, you could connect -- because I 19 guess because the video would --

20 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: And this is precisely the 21 issue, Your Honor, I was trying to see if we could avoid in 22 trying to discuss because where we left it in the discussion
23 was Mr. Penny identified, I think the number was 24, fields 24 and I think for a number of them we probably will be able to 25 come to some sort of agreement. What I'd like to do is figure

1 out which one of those or ones of those we can't agree on and 2 what databases they're interested because I think it will be 3 much easier for both sides to present to Your Honor their 4 positions as to why they should or shouldn't be anonymized, 5 and then Your Honor can decide that. I just think in the 6 abstract, it's very difficult to -- for us to defend the 7 position without knowing exactly what they want.

8 So I don't think this is something that should take 9 months, and we're certainly committed to work with Mr. Penny 10 to see if we can narrow down and crystallize our issues and 11 then bring them to Your Honor.

12 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Well, and to be fair, what I tried 13 to do to make the last meet and confer on Friday a little more 14 productive was to put some of the categories of what you were 15 claiming were private fields into categories -- roughly 24 16 categories that we could try to discuss. But some of those 17 categories, frankly, aren't that important to us, but you were 18 claiming are private, such as the brand of glove the player 19 wears, the type of shoulder pads he wears, the brand of the 20 helmet. I mean, these are things that aren't that important 21 to us. And sure, we can meet and confer and probably come to 22 a resolution on those. But I think we're going to have major 23 issues with things like injury date, date of birth of the 24 player, the video clip being -- the video analysis project 25 database. I really don't see how we're going to come to an

1 agreement on that.

2 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: That may be so, but I don't 3 think we're yet at a specific disagreement that warrants 4 discussion right now.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. BRIAN PENNY: That's fine, just --

7 THE COURT: I appreciate the concern that both sides
8 raise here. Mr. Penny, I hear you that this issue has been on 9 the table a while, it needs some resolution. I hear that I
10 asked you folks to come forward and you've done that and made 11 some progress on that. So, I think at our next informal this 12 should be a real focus of it so we can make a pivot on this.
13 I need to do some more thinking about this. I think that what 14 I was thinking last time we talked about this is that the 15 Plaintiffs -- that there was a way for the Plaintiffs to prove 16 their case with respect to each of these folks and the 17 information in the database about them without identifying 18 them. But now I can see that because so many pieces of the 19 database will end up identifying it, all of a sudden that 20 connection won't be made and that's the problem. And I
21 appreciate that, and I don't think I quite appreciated that 22 before I got this letter and heard from you today. So, that's 23 what I need to struggle with. You can help me struggle with 24 that and figure out what the fair outcome is on that.

25 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: We'll certainly be willing to 1 assist.

2 THE COURT: All right. Great.

3 MR. RICHARD BERNARDO: Thank you, Your Honor.

4 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: The next issue, Your Honor,
5 is the Defendant -- Defendant Fact Sheets. And there are some 6 additional questions that we think need to be added to the 7 Fact Sheets. Mike Cashman is going to discuss them, but I
8 think it's time to come to ground on the Defendant Fact Sheet 9 and get that out.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

11 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: Your Honor, we've had some 12 further discussion. I proposed a revision to question -- 13 section 3, sub 4. As you'll recall from our discussion at the 14 last informal conference, I've proposed new language to the 15 NHL. I haven't heard a response to it. And in addition, 16 based on the discussion that we had at the informal conference 17 and the way discovery has been developing in this case, we had 18 three additional, clarifying questions that we've proposed and 19 the NHL has not gotten back to me yet on any of these.
20 Perhaps -- well, we do want to get this resolved no later than 21 the next informal conference because the Plaintiff Fact Sheets 22 will be due in a couple weeks.

23 And what we had proposed on the Defendant Fact 24 Sheets is they run from the date when the Plaintiff Fact 25 Sheets are provided.

1 So, Mr. Zimmerman is correct. We'd like to get this 2 resolved. I could go through the language with the Court that 3 we proposed, or we can have some meet and confer. But 4 regardless, we need to get this resolved no later than the 5 next informal conference.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Let me hear from the Defense
7 first. Yes.

8 MS. JESSICA MILLER: Good morning, Your Honor.
9 Jessica Miller.

10 THE COURT: Good morning.

11 MS. JESSICA MILLER: We received
12 Plaintiffs' proposal on Monday, and due to travel schedules, 13 we haven't had a chance to meet and confer on the additional 14 questions yet. We have a call set with Mr. Cashman on Monday 15 on confidentiality issues, and so we were thinking we could 16 discuss it at that time as well, if that works for you, so 17 that this would be ripe for the informal.

18 And there's one other issue that I think is going to 19 take a little bit of sensitivity, and that is the fact that 20 there is a little bit of a cross currents going on between the 21 proposals on the Defendant Fact Sheet and what Plaintiffs are 22 asking for with respect to the 54 Plaintiffs on the databases.
23 So, we want to make sure before we have this final, hopefully 24 by the informal, that anything that Plaintiffs are asking for 25 with respect to the 54 from the databases is included so that

1 it's all in one place.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. JESSICA MILLER: And so that's a little bit of a 4 slow down, but we should have this ripe for the informal.

5 THE COURT: With respect to this and the previous 6 issue, it's going to be important for me to get position
7 papers about where things stand from the parties a little bit
8 earlier. Now, we haven't set the informal, so maybe the best 9 thing to do is to do that and then we can come up with some 10 dates here. I now have my July schedule here, and I think we 11 were looking at sometime the week of the 14th. Is that what 12 we were looking at for an informal?

13 Does July 15th work for folks? Of course,
14 Mr. Zimmerman -- no, Mr. Beisner, you don't -- somebody 15 doesn't have -- Mr. Zimmerman, you don't have your schedule.

16 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I don't have a -- I can --

17 MS. JESSICA MILLER: That works for us, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Zimmerman, let's assume 19 July 15th, which is a Wednesday, works. If it doesn't, maybe 20 you can tweak it with the parties.

21 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Okay. I think it works, 22 Your Honor. I just -- we can set it and if there's a problem, 23 either I won't attend or we'll -- I'll let the Court know.

24 THE COURT: Okay. I need to put it -- I have a 25 pretrial at 9:30, so would you prefer to do it at 10:30 or at

1 1:00 or 1:30?

2 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: 1:30, then people can fly 3 in -- 10:30, then people who won't fly in.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Beisner?

5 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Your Honor, we just discovered 6 we --

7 THE COURT: Have a problem?

8 MR. JOHN BEISNER: -- can confer, our true Geek 9 Squad isn't available on the 15th. My apologies. But if 10 we're going to be discussing the data issues, that's not going 11 to work.

12 THE COURT: Yes. How about the afternoon of the 13 14th?

14 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I know I'm tied up that day
15 with a matter in another -- another judge in this courtroom 16 [sic]. But we can go -- probably proceed without me or I can 17 come in late, if necessary --

18 THE COURT: The morning of the 17th would be 19 available. That's Friday. Okay. Guys, something has to work 20 here.

21 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Let's do the 14th --

22 MS. JESSICA MILLER: Afternoon of the 14th.

23 THE COURT: Afternoon of the 14th. Okay. Let's 24 make it 1:00, July 14th at 1:00. And that's an informal.
25 Okay.

1 With that in mind, then, I would like, on the 2 database issue and on the Defendant Fact Sheet issue, give me
3 some time. So, if you can get me final position papers on 4 that no later than Friday the 10th. Okay? And that should be 5 possible because, as I understand it, that gives you a week to 6 meet and confer. Okay.

7 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: The next issue -- are you 8 ready for the next -- the next issue is the production of text 9 messages, which I think Brian Gudmundson of my office is going 10 to be discussing. And I think there will be some discussions 11 from the Defendants, as well.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: Good afternoon, Your Honor.
14 I guess it's still morning. I've been here a while. I
15 thought I'd bring the Court up to speed on where the text 16 messaging issue is, to give you some historical context.

17 I know you've heard something about this throughout 18 the course of our formal and informal status conferences. We, 19 you know, of course served our requests a long, long time ago, 20 throughout the middle of March and April of this year.

21 Mr. Andreson and I met and conferred with defense counsel 22 about the scope of their collection, got a sense of how they 23 were collecting their electronically-stored information, what 24 type of custodial interviews they were doing and things like 25 that. When we started receiving production, we noticed that

1 there were no text messages included. And we re-inquired with 2 defense counsel May 28th and said, you know, we haven't seen
3 any text messages, are these forthcoming? The answer was no.

4 We asked why not. They said, well, we've reasked
5 everybody, and they don't have any text messages, so we're not 6 going to be producing them. We have no reason to doubt their 7 sincerity on that. We did, in fact, however do some rather 8 rudimentarily searching of the database for things like the 9 word "text" and "texting" and "texted" and learned that, in 10 fact, they do text and learned that at least four of the 11 custodians they identified talked about texting members of the 12 media, very key alternate Governors such as Glen Sather, 13 referees, and things like that.

14 Where we've left it now is that we've exchanged 15 letters on this subject and we've been told they would 16 consider producing text messages for the four people we've 17 identified. But the Plaintiffs, of course, believe there are 18 far more people who text and have offered to -- have offered a 19 list of sample custodians they should also search texts for.
20 We've not gotten a commitment on either the four or the -- or 21 the broader list, which was only a sampling, of course. We 22 always reserve the right to seek more text messages, but --

23 THE COURT: How many did you propose in the 24 sampling?

25 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: We proposed a total of --

1 well, of course we proposed the four, and then we proposed an 2 additional 10 out of 34 custodians.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. BRIAN GUDMUNDSON: And so that's where we are.
5 We're sort of awaiting a word on -- obviously we feel we're 6 entitled to the text messages. I think that goes without 7 saying. But we're still awaiting word on whether we'll be 8 receiving those, for at least the four we've identified who 9 have admitted they text on business matters, as well as the 10 others.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

12 Who wishes to respond?

13 Mr. Martino.

14 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Morning again. So, the -- 15 what we had explained during our meet and confers was that we 16 had inquired multiple times with the custodians about whether 17 they had used text messaging for NHL business or for any 18 purposes or -- that would be relevant to any topics that would 19 be relevant in litigation, and that was -- we were given the 20 negative for all of the custodians. I think the -- what it 21 really comes down to here is these custodians aren't really 22 using text messaging in their every day business as an 23 ordinary course matter. Maybe they receive a text message 24 from somebody that they -- you know, that they may get without 25 prompting, and they may reply to that. But, you know, you

1 could understand why when you ask somebody, do you use text 2 messaging for business, that kind of thing does not pop to the 3 mind.

4 But they did identify four people, and we are 5 following up with those four custodians and, you know, at the 6 moment, I think we're inclined to search for text messages for 7 those four people, but we are following up with them. They 8 also, as they mentioned, requested ten others. That's a total 9 of 14. Actually, of the 19 -- we have 19 custodians that are 10 current NHL employees for whom we had electronic 11 communications. The 34 includes a bunch of former custodians, 12 some of which haven't worked at the League in decades that we 13 looked for paper documents for.

14 So, of the 19 for which we had electronic 15 communications, they've sought 14 of those. We are -- we're 16 taking that under consideration and we're going to meet and -- 17 continue to meet and confer on those other custodians. I 18 think, as you saw in the agenda, there was a proposal that we 19 could put that on, if there are still disputes, we could put 20 that on the August hearing.

21 THE COURT: Well, I think we better do it quicker
22 than that. Why don't you meet and confer this week, and let's 23 put it on the informal agenda.

24 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Yep, that's fine.

25 THE COURT: All right.

1 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: To be clear, that was the 2 Plaintiffs' proposal for August. We're happy to discuss at 3 the next --

4 THE COURT: Okay. Great.

5 MR. MATTHEW MARTINO: Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Anything else on this topic?

7 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I believe the next issue,
8 Your Honor, is the confidentiality over-designation issue.
9 Mike Cashman is going to discuss that. But this we began 10 talking about at the last informal, and we want to bring you 11 up to date and see if we can agree on a process that isn't 12 overly burdensome.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: Hello, Your Honor. You'll 15 recall we discussed this a little bit at the last informal 16 conference, and it is a significant -- significant issue. The 17 NHL, understandably to get documents produced has designated 18 everything as confidential. We have done, likewise, the same.
19 From the Plaintiffs' point of view, we're going to go back and 20 review our documents and see if there are some that we can 21 voluntarily de-designate, which we think is our burden.

22 We think the NHL, under the protective order and 23 under the law, has an obligation to do the same. Again, they 24 designated everything as Protected or Protected - Attorneys' 25 Eyes Only. I'm not familiar with any documents that they

1 produced without a confidentiality designation. We think that 2 they have an affirmative obligation to go back and voluntarily 3 look at their production and see what should be de-designated.
4 I think that's what the protective order contemplates and the 5 law contemplates.

6 But above and beyond that, Your Honor, we have 7 provided the NHL with a list of documents that we want to 8 discuss as a first tranche of documents that we think should 9 be de-designated. And those are representative of some 10 different categories, e-mail correspondences which we don't 11 see any basis for confidentiality under the protective order 12 or applicable law. And also things such as PowerPoint 13 presentations about fighting analysis or about high-level or 14 sometimes more detailed discussion about concussion analysis 15 or injury analysis. These aren't the kind of things that are 16 confidential in our view. Board of Governor or General 17 Manager meeting Minutes, there may be some information in some 18 of those discussions such as financial discussions. That's 19 really not our focus. But there are discussions about head 20 hits, concussions, fighting, et cetera, that we don't think 21 are confidential under applicable law.

22 And so we've identified about 100 documents, for 23 starters, that we want to discuss with the NHL. We have a 24 meet and confer set up for next Monday afternoon at which we 25 will -- time we'll discuss some of these documents. And our

1 contemplation, as we suggested at the last conference, is that 2 perhaps -- and I'm hopeful that we can pick out a few 3 exemplars -- let's say 10, maybe 15 or 20 -- some number of 4 documents that we can present to you and you can take a look 5 at these and we may get some guidance that we can then apply 6 to the broader spectrum to reduce the burden on the Court and 7 make sure that the Court is informed about these kinds of 8 documents.

9 So, we'd like to tee that up for the next informal 10 conference after this meet and confer. And I think given the 11 position paper deadlines that you set for some of these other 12 issues, we could do the same with respect to a few exemplar 13 documents on the confidentiality front.

14 THE COURT: Very good.

15 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 Mr. Connolly.

18 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Yes, Your Honor, I'll try to 19 be quick but not as quick as Mr. Grygiel, as we're all getting 20 close to the end of the day here.

21 THE COURT: It's only almost noon.

22 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: I know, but it seems -- but 23 all of us are already on the road, Your Honor (laughter).

24 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I want to work at Faegre
25 (laughter).

1 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Really?

2 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Yeah.

3 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Well, Your Honor, this is a 4 bilateral issue. Plaintiffs have designated every single 5 document confidential. While we have designated a large 6 majority of the documents confidential, it's not been every 7 document. And part of that has been because the Court has 8 urged us and we've agreed to produce materials on an expedited 9 basis and to try to do the fine-tuning of the designation 10 issue early on would slow down the production process.

11 And all of that raises the question that we have.
12 We certainly are prepared to engage in this topic. And, in 13 fact, at the last informal discovery conference, the Court
14 urged us to have a meet and confer, and I understand 15 Mr. Cashman has been at a number of these depositions, but the 16 first meet and confer that we've been proposed was Monday, 17 which is following this. So, we're basically revisiting a 18 topic that we've already discussed once in the informal 19 discovery conference.

20 We think, however, that there are more pressing 21 issues. Mr. Cashman didn't address any prejudice that both 22 sides have somewhat over-designated the documents. Everybody 23 has access to these same documents. All the documents are 24 being discussed in the depositions. There are no pending 25 hearings or trials in which it's critical that these documents

1 be un-de-designated in a certain way.

2 So, while we all realize that we have a lot of 3 resources, we suggest that this issue be pushed behind 4 slightly on the list, that is behind resolution of the 5 privilege log which the Court has directed the parties to 6 engage in, behind the issue of the private medical 7 information, both of which relate to access issues. And we've 8 heard, you know, Mr. Grygiel and Mr. Zimmerman speak at length 9 about what the potential prejudice is. And so while we really 10 are prepared to engage in this topic, we suggest that this be 11 one of the topics that be trailing a little bit on the process 12 because we've already added a lot to the plate for the 13 July 14th conference, and suggest that we meet and confer 14 about these topics, try to resolve them in an orderly way as 15 we do all the time in this District, and then figure out that 16 process going forward between the parties and not try to 17 engage the Court on this one.

18 And as far as the over-designation, as I said, it's 19 been on both sides. We have over-designated some documents 20 just to get them out. They've designated, you know, 21 deposition transcripts that were previously provided and 22 newspaper articles and all kinds of stuff. So, we just need 23 to get into this process. But I suggest that this be pushed 24 off to a later informal conference so that the parties can 25 focus in on the issues that the Court has already put on the 1 agenda for next time.

2 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Connolly.

3 Mr. Cashman.

4 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: I respectfully disagree with 5 Mr. Connolly. This is a -- an important issue. So, let me 6 just address a few of his points specifically.

7 Prejudice. This is prejudicial. For example, if we 8 want to file things with the Court, all the kind of issues 9 that go with that. There's a pressing issue to get 10 nonconfidential information undesignated, and that's really 11 what the law provides. I understand the urgency of the 12 productions and how things happen, that things get designated 13 as confidential. But that doesn't mean that anybody is 14 entitled to maintain confidentiality over something that's not 15 confidential until the very end of the case and put us through 16 the burdens when we make our motions and such to file things 17 under seal and all of the kind of burdens that go with that.

18 As far as the -- I would call it the burden issue, 19 Mr. Connolly suggested we shouldn't be doing this right now.
20 Well, that's exactly why I suggested to the Court that we 21 present a few exemplars. It's not going to be overly 22 burdensome, but it gives the parties then guidance to perform 23 their affirmative burden to go back and look at what has been 24 produced so that they can de-designate. So, if we do that 25 with a handful of documents, the Court's been great in

1 providing us guidance that we can apply on a going-forward
2 basis, and there's no reason to push this off and delay
3 everything until the end when we can have a reasonable process
4 to get that done right now.

5 As far as the bilateral issue, I told the Court and 6 we are going to do this, we're going to go and look at our own 7 production because we wanted to get things out. We're going 8 to go look at our own production and de-designate the 9 documents that we think are not confidential. And if the NHL 10 thinks there are others which should be de-designated, we're 11 going to be happy to listen. And I'm glad that Mr. Connolly 12 mentioned deposition transcripts because this is also 13 something that applies to testimony. What we're running into 14 right now is that the NHL makes a blanket designation for all 15 deposition testimony that's given by a witness. We think it's 16 incumbent upon them, following the deposition in a reasonable 17 amount of time -- and we haven't crossed this bridge yet about 18 what a reasonable amount of time is, but I would suggest 19 within a few weeks after a transcript is delivered, that the 20 party go through that transcript and say specifically what 21 lines they want to maintain as confidential and de-designate 22 the rest, and that should apply to exhibits, as well.

23 This needs to be an ongoing process, not something 24 we're going to backload later. That would be an undue burden 25 on everybody, including the Court, whereas the process we're

1 proposing will nip that in the bud, have an affirmative
2 process, we can use some exemplars, and get it under way.
3 Thank you.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Connolly.

5 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Thank you, Your Honor. I 6 think I agree largely with Mr. Cashman, that is that the 7 parties should engage in a discussion on this topic. I think 8 it's not the highest priority item among the others that we've 9 talked about. The -- we have designated the depositions as 10 confidential, and we're going to review them. The depositions 11 have been coming in relatively slowly. But that's a process
12 that's set forth in the protective order. And the Court asked 13 the parties already to meet and confer on this. I think that 14 this is just -- it hasn't -- a full meet and confer hasn't 15 happened yet, and I just think that it -- we should follow the 16 process that the Court has set forth and address the other 17 topics for the agenda -- at the -- at the informal discovery 18 conference. And I didn't hear -- as far as I'm aware, 19 Mr. Cashman talked about that there is a prejudice because 20 they have to file something under seal.

21 First of all, they can, and parties can do it. But 22 I haven't heard of any motion that's pending that's going to 23 be filed at this particular time. In fact, the Court has 24 asked to be informed beforehand and to address whether things 25 can be resolved in the informal process or in the formal

1 process, and we have no pending formal motions at this time.
2 So, we're just repeating the request that this item be 3 addressed in the normal course with meet and confers and that 4 we don't set it on for the next informal discovery conference 5 because we have so many items on already.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I think I agree with both 7 of you in many respects, disagree slightly. I have a slightly 8 different view of this. Perhaps that's because I view it from 9 the Court's perspective. We have a very serious problem with 10 over-designation in cases in general, and we're always 11 struggling with it at the court because we always have to file 12 everything -- orders under seal and we get close to trial and 13 there are lots of issues that arise from this problem. This 14 is a -- a big issue to deal with because we have millions of 15 documents that are designated. So, I have what I think is 16 sort of an orderly way to approach this that I would suggest 17 to the parties.

18 Instead of pinpointing a few sort of more obvious 19 categories to raise with the Court at the next informal, what 20 I would prefer the parties do is categorize all of the 21 documents. This is a big job. You have to put them in 22 categories that can reasonably be judged based on sampling
23 within the categories. And then we need to do random sampling 24 in the categories instead of cherry-picked documents. And 25 then a judge -- it may not be me, it may be Judge Mayeron --

1 needs to rule on that sampling. And then whatever that ruling 2 is will apply to every document produced under those 3 categories.

4 So I think you have your work cut out for you. I 5 think step number one is to affirmatively de-designate your 6 own documents. I agree every party has an obligation to make 7 sure they haven't over-designated, so you need to do that 8 first. Then you need to agree on categories, which is a big 9 job. And then you need to agree on a random sampling method
10 within those categories. And then you need to do the random 11 sample, and then you need to brief it before Judge Mayeron.
12 So, those are the steps.

13 With respect to transcripts, I think the idea -- I 14 mean, we do this with orders of the Court. I will give you a 15 couple weeks to come back to me and tell me why it should 16 remain under seal. I think that's a good idea with 17 transcripts, as well. Perhaps we put a two-week rule into 18 effect that you have to come back and identify what needs to 19 be redacted and what doesn't and then raise it with the Court 20 if you have a disagreement.

21 But with respect to documents, I'd like to start the 22 process now. It may not have the priority of other items, but 23 it's a big job and so by the informal conference, I want you 24 to have a meet and confer to start this process, that is to 25 brainstorm about categories at least and a random sampling

1 process and then to report to me at the informal discovery
2 conference about your progress. And then I'm going to have 3 you come up -- and to propose a schedule for when this might 4 be accomplished so I can inform Judge Mayeron and she can 5 prepare herself to rule on these random samples. Okay?

6 Everybody understand the process?

7 MR. MICHAEL CASHMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Any objections?

9 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Yes, Your Honor [sic].

10 THE COURT: All right. Very good.

11 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: So, Your Honor, as I said at 12 the beginning, we want to kind of have a six-month look-back.
13 I think we can all reach our conclusions. I think everybody
14 is operating in good faith. I think each defines "good faith" 15 differently. As lawyers say: Reasonableness is sometimes in 16 the eye of the beholder. But I think we're all working hard 17 as professionals. But we're not getting everything done in 18 the way we, I think, anticipated we would at the beginning of 19 the case.

20 I will meet and confer with defense. We'll come 21 back to you with some ideas hopefully by the informal as to 22 how much time we're really going to need to get the job done 23 because we're doing the job on behalf of lots of people who 24 we're representing, and it's an important case in sports and 25 it's an important case that many, many people are watching.

1 And we want to do it right, and we're not going to get forced 2 to do it on a timeline that we just can't meet. So I think --
3 I think by playing it out today and letting the Court know 4 exactly where we've gone, what we've done, how hard we've been 5 working, I think we can come to a conclusion as to what is 6 realistic under the circumstances.

7 I want to add two more things, and then I'll stop.
8 I think at some point, Your Honor, on the agenda, we do have 9 to have the class action questions, and I think John and I 10 will meet and confer on that. I think we also need to put on 11 the agenda endgame discussions. I think at some point, 12 somebody has to start talking about the end. And I think we 13 should have discussions about it, privately, publicly, with 14 others, not with others, suggestions. We need to broach -- 15 approach the issue. I'm always the first one to bring it up 16 because that's the nature of my -- that's my nature. You 17 can't talk about it, you can't get there until you talk about 18 it. And if you can't talk about it, you'll never get there.

19 So, I think it should be on the agenda, and I think 20 the Court can maybe take us both aside or do whatever you
21 think or we can suggest some ideas, we can write White Papers
22 on it that are confidential, but I think we just start -- it 23 has to start becoming part of our agenda. And I hope we can.
24 And it's a delicate topic, but we need the Court's direction 25 or at least decision on how to begin that process.

1 Last thing -- and it's not very controversial -- Dan
2 and I were talking while I was in Minot with nothing to do, I
3 was calling Dan all the time because I had nothing to do 4 because -- nevermind -- and --

5 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: So you're aware how I rate, 6 Your Honor (laughter).

7 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: But I still would like to 8 work at Faegre if you quit by noon every day.

9 And we discussed whether or not the agenda and the 10 status report or the agenda and a modified status report
11 should be filed. And I think it should. I think we started 12 that way. But when we got into the informals, we started 13 lodging them with the Court. It's my belief that the agendas 14 are important. People are following it, both lawyers, both 15 nonlawyers, players, we don't know exactly who with the ECF
16 systems that we have today. But I think it's good for people 17 to know what's being discussed, what progress that's being 18 made, progress that's not being made. I think it's important.
19 And so Dan wanted us -- wanted me to bring it up as opposed to 20 just do it or even call you up before today's status --

21 THE COURT: I have no objection to filing the 22 agendas. That's just fine.

23 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Yeah, I wouldn't have 24 thought so, and I don't think the defense does either. But we 25 just wanted to know because nobody wants to do anything

1 precipitous or do the wrong thing. So, I think we should file
2 it. I think this one should get filed. I think we should 3 file them in the future. And certainly if there's anything 4 confidential or anything that people want to redact or that,
5 we're open to that. But as we talked before, confidentiality
6 and the over-designation is a big issue with Federal Courts 7 today, and so we want to be consistent.

8 THE COURT: I would say this. I think the 9 informals, in part, have been so successful because we're not 10 making a record of it. And so I'm not sure I would 11 encourage -- and you'll notice on my -- when I do the Minute 12 orders for them, they're very vague and really don't say much, 13 and that's quite intentional. I'll take guidance from the 14 parties on that. I thought that's sort of what the purpose of 15 that was, and I'd be inclined to continue. But on a monthly 16 basis, to have these agendas filed -- and I will have more 17 specific details in my Minute order, say, from today about 18 what I've ordered in terms of the parties meeting and 19 conferring and the like, does that sound like a good balance 20 for everybody?

21 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: It does to me, Your Honor, 22 yes.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Your Honor, if I might just 25 address a slight qualification on that. I think it sounds

1 excellent that we, as you know, the Court has asked us to go
2 from an agenda to an agenda and a status report. And I agree 3 entirely, or we agree entirely that the agenda and status 4 report for the informal conferences should be e-mailed to the 5 Court. As far as the formal conferences, I think it would be 6 helpful if we just filed the agendas and not the status
7 report. There is, as you -- as we -- there is a lot of back 8 and forth on the status report, and there would be even more 9 if these were filed publicly. So, I think that it would be 10 helpful, as far as the status report, to just send that to the 11 Court and separate the two documents for the formal --

12 THE COURT: Mr. Zimmerman? I mean, we want to avoid 13 posturing on the status report. The purpose of that is so I'm 14 prepared when I come to the hearing and --

15 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: I hate to say this, as the 16 last thing I do is I tend to -- is I agree with Dan. I think 17 that the status -- there would be too much posturing in the 18 status report, and I don't think it's necessary. I think it 19 would take us so long to get it out in words that everybody 20 could be comfortable with. Maybe there will be a little more 21 detail now in the agenda but we'll work it out. But I think 22 I'm comfortable with the agenda and leaving the status 23 report --

24 THE COURT: I think the combination of the agenda 25 and my order after the hearing would give any follower of the 1 case a pretty good idea of where we're at.

2 MR. DANIEL CONNOLLY: Yes, Your Honor. We'll do it
3 that way then.

4 THE COURT: All right. Very good.

5 MR. JOHN BEISNER: If I may chime in on one more
6 issue that goes beyond the question of what we file. I do
7 think -- I just wanted to agree with Mr. Zimmerman that 8 it's -- it would probably be a good time for us to sit down 9 here. And I've got some other things that I think we need to 10 have a better understanding of. We're getting together a 11 letter to send to Plaintiffs with some very basic questions 12 about what the claims are here. And I don't want to go into 13 detail here because we haven't talked with Plaintiffs about 14 it. But some of the questioning in the depositions so far 15 have raised questions in our mind about how -- what in the 16 Complaint is being pursued, what isn't, what Plaintiffs are 17 focusing on -- and I don't want to bother the Court with that 18 now. But I think first and foremost, one of the things that 19 we wanted to suggest is engagement of Plaintiffs about some 20 fundamental questions about what claims are being pursued here 21 and the nature of some of those.

22 We could go through a discovery process with that, 23 but I'm not sure that would be as productive as our sitting 24 down and talking about that. So I think before we get to some 25 of the other things Mr. Zimmerman talked about, I'm having

1 some difficulties on that and what the class proposal
2 ultimately will be here. We may be getting the cart ahead of 3 the horse, but it's hard to talk about other things that he 4 was raising without that.

5 Anyway, that's a long-winded way of saying, Your 6 Honor, I think Mr. Zimmerman and I -- maybe we can go to Sioux 7 Falls instead of Minot, but anyway, we'll find a place to sit 8 down and --

9 THE COURT: You better be careful. My law clerk is 10 from Sioux Falls and she loves it. So --

11 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Just say the word "endgame."
12 Say the word. You can say it (laughter).

13 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Huh? "Dismissal"? Yeah, we're 14 in favor of that (laughter).

15 And let me propose Kansas City, because I know I 16 can't get in trouble there because that's my home turf.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Beisner.

18 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Yes, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: I have another big case going on sort of 20 similar to this, and in that case one big difference is -- and 21 I am sure in that case that there will be -- there are 73 22 individual cases, and I'm sure that one or more of them will 23 be tried. I don't have any doubt.

24 Regardless of that, I had a mediation track going on 25 there, separate mediator, sort of a wall so that everyone

1 feels free to be comfortable with the mediator without it
2 leaking to me, and that's proved to be very useful. I didn't 3 know if it would because I knew in that case, in fact, that 4 some of the bigger cases are just probably going to get tried.
5 And I guess that's something I'd like to hear some feedback
6 from you about, whether it would be appropriate for the Court 7 to appoint a Special Master for mediation purposes, whether 8 you want some input on who that person would be, with the 9 idea, you know, no commitments, just starting the discussion.

10 And, you know, that discussion can be even more 11 expansive than that. It can talk about what I think you're 12 getting at, which is what does this look like at the time of 13 class certification and if it's not certified, are we doing 14 bellwether trials, or how does this look endgame? And that 15 can be done through me, or it can be done with a Special 16 Master who is focusing on kind of endgame issues. I'm open to 17 any ideas, but I kind of agree with Mr. Zimmerman that we 18 ought to start the dialogue.

19 MR. JOHN BEISNER: We'll provide some views on that.
20 I have some -- some thoughts along those lines based on a lot 21 of other MDLs and whether the third-party assistance at the 22 outset is useful. But I think it probably makes sense for 23 Mr. Zimmerman and I to go to Kansas City -- no, we'll find a 24 place to do this -- to have a conversation about that. And to 25 be clear, Your Honor, the part I'm focusing on here isn't so

1 much bellwether trials and so on. I'm really focusing on what 2 are the claims here for which class treatment will be 3 proposed. We've got some questions about that, pretty 4 fundamentally. And I think to understand that is critical 5 before a lot of other things that flow from that. And I think 6 it's time we have a conversation about that.

7 I think the Court may want to be involved, but I 8 think it's probably best for the parties to be doing that 9 first. And it -- you know, part of it gets to the scope of 10 discovery issue I was raising earlier and so on. We really, I 11 think, need to have an understanding of that. I understand 12 there's work product issues and you don't put everything on 13 the table now. I got that. But there's some fundamentals 14 that I think we're probably not on the same page about, or at 15 least we should find out if we are. And I'm happy to engage 16 in those conversations. And this letter we're preparing was 17 really intended to try to -- not to you, but to Plaintiffs to 18 try to give us a basis for starting to crystallize what some 19 of those -- those considerations are.

20 THE COURT: Okay. That's fine. I think what I'm 21 trying to get you to think about is even if you genuinely 22 believe that there's going to be a basis to dismiss these 23 claims or -- whatever your view on endgame is here, it's good 24 for me to hear some of this so that I can bring in the 25 necessary folks to get the dialogue started. I don't want it

1 to wait too long.

2 MR. JOHN BEISNER: Understood, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Very good.

4 Anything else today? Now just to be clear, we have 5 our July 14th at 1:00 p.m. informal. And my understanding is 6 that we're going to try to confirm Friday, August 7th, am I
7 right, for the next formal. But Mr. Zimmerman, you're going 8 to be looking at your calendar about that Friday, August 7th.
9 Is that right?

10 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: For the ones in August.

11 THE COURT: Yes, which would be the formal and then 12 proposing perhaps the 24th or 25th for an informal. And I'll 13 hear back from you.

14 MR. CHARLES ZIMMERMAN: Yes, you will.

15 THE COURT: All right.

16 Anything further we should address today?

17 Mr. Penny.

18 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Can I just ask two quick
19 questions. The first, on the final position papers on PMI
20 issues, should that address the PMI issues just in the context 21 of the databases or in the broader context that we've been 22 briefing?

23 THE COURT: Well, you're welcome to do it in a 24 broader basis, but I already have your briefing, you know, so 25 I guess only to the extent it would bring up new arguments or 1 issues.

2 MR. BRIAN PENNY: And should that be filed on the 3 docket or just sent to your chambers, Your Honor?

4 THE COURT: I think that could be filed on the 5 docket, to be honest with you.

6 MR. BRIAN PENNY: And then the second question 7 was --

8 THE COURT: And you'll have to decide whether you 9 want oral argument on that, on the docket. That might be 10 something you want to preserve, so you better talk about that.

11 MR. BRIAN PENNY: And that's again for the July 14th 12 informal, whether we would maybe come into the courtroom and 13 put some of it on the record?

14 THE COURT: Right.

15 MR. BRIAN PENNY: And then the second question was, 16 John Kessler from Epic joined us today at Your Honor's 17 invitation. I don't get the sense that his technical 18 expertise will be called upon in the July 14th informal, but 19 would you like him to attend or would you --

20 THE COURT: Mr. Epic (sic), which one are you? Oh, 21 from Epic. Yeah, Mr. Kessler. I'm sorry.

22 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Mr. Epic would be a very cool name
23 (laughter).

24 THE COURT: You wouldn't mind being called Mr. Epic, 25 I suspect. Thank you for coming today. It was hard for me to

1 anticipate what -- whether I would need to call on you. You
2 can see what some of the issues are here today. At this 3 point, I don't see a reason for you to come on July 14th, but 4 I'm going to get a better idea when I get the briefing on that 5 issue, and I'll certainly advise you on if I think it would be 6 helpful.

7 MR. BRIAN PENNY: Thank you, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 Anything further from any of the parties?

10 (None indicated.)

11 THE COURT: All right. Very good. Everyone have a 12 nice 4th. Court is adjourned.

13 (WHEREUPON, the matter was adjourned.)
